Travels 200 Miles

Titan Thunders Aloft In Successful Debut

CAPE CANAVERAL — (UPI) — The first Titan ICBM thundered majestically over its planned flight path Friday in its debut as the nation's most powerful rocket for war or the peaceful exploration of space.

Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas D. White said in Washington that preliminary reports indicated the Titan "successfully accomplished the programmed objectives." He said he was "extremely gratified."

(It was revealed in Denver Monday that the Titan is being mass produced at the Martin plant there. Two weeks ago Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev boasted that Russia ICBMs are in "serial production.")

The 90-foot Titan, designed to hurl a hydrogen warhead across the widest oceans, never faltered during the two minutes its powerful first stage engine burned.

Informed sources said the fledgling intercontinental ballistic missile traveled about 200 miles on its maiden flight—the approximate distance it was supposed to fly.

But these sources said the important factor was that the Titan was successfully launched. This alone, they said, made the missile's first skyward venture 90 per cent successful.

The Titan made a determined start at 4:22 p.m. and rose gradually at first. Picking up speed it "turned the corner"—veered toward a more horizontal flight path—about 30 seconds later and forged through a thin blue rift in the overcast sky.

The Air Force took no chances in the first Titan flight test. The missile was not released from its launching stand until six seconds after engine ignition while missile men made sure everything was working properly.

Winds in gusts of about 40 miles an hour boosted the Titan on its way down the Atlantic tracking range in a 10-minute flight. The 110-ton Titan probably rose to an altitude of about 50 miles before it fell into the chilly Atlantic.

Two previous firing attempts, on Dec. 20 and again last Tuesday, ended in engine shutdowns before the cartridge-shaped Titan was released from its launching stand.

Although the Titan was designed as a weapon, it has great possibilities for peaceful space probing. Officials have said its booster section, with the most powerful single rocket engine in the free world, could power a manned rocket on a trip around the moon.

The Titan bears little physical resemblance to its older ICBM brother, the Atlas. The Atlas is little more than a barrel-chested fuel tank with three strong engines strapped to its tail, while the sleek Titan is composed of two distinct sections.

Key statistics on the Titan are secret. But informed sources here said the missile's first stage generates more than 300,000 pounds of thrust, and the second-stage 60,000 pounds. Both propulsion units are made by the Aerojet-General Corp.

No, Says Ike to Red Bid

Notes Slurs On Leaders

THOMASVILLE, Ga.—(UPI)—President Eisenhower Friday rejected the idea of a trip to Russia under present conditions.

Through his press secretary, the chief executive made it clear that he has no intention of visiting the Soviet Union in response to a public invitation that also contained "very hostile references" to American leaders by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

As he has on repeated occasions in the past, Eisenhower left the door open to some future meeting in Russia or "anywhere in the world" if this would help promote peace.

But the manner in which he threw back the latest invitation at Khrushchev seemed to dampen the possibility of a Big Two conference any time soon.

Khrushchev, in addressing the 21st congress of the Communist Party in Moscow Thursday, said he would like the President to visit Russia and travel about the country as he pleased with "any one he likes." The Soviet premier also pictured the leadership of the U.S. as evilly capitalistic, willing to "sell not only their friends but even their fathers" for profit.

The President studied Khurshchev's remarks overnight here at the estate of former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey. The chief executive has been here since Wednesday.

Apparently after consultation with the State Department, the President was ready Friday for public disclosure of White House reaction to the so-called invitation from Khrushchev.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty pointed out to reporters that Khrushchev's invitation "occurred in a lengthy speech which contained very hostile references to U.S. leaders."

"It seems strange that Premier Khrushchev, if he really welcomes a visit by the President, would extend it in such circumstances," Hagerty said.

"The President has no present plans to make such a visit—in fact, he hasn't received any invitation, except through the reports of an off-hand invitation extended in a political speech."

The White House has long taken a dim attitude toward invitations disclosed to the public before they reach the recipient. Invitations of this nature generally are regarded as propaganda or, at best, feelers designed largely for public consumption.

Inflation-Shy Investors Snub Bond Issue, U.S. Needs Loan

By EDWIN L. DALE JR.
New York Times Service
Copyright, 1959

WASHINGTON — The major financial problem of the Eisenhower administration was revealed Friday when the treasury disclosed that this week's big financing had not been successful.

Holders of more than 20 per cent of a large amount of maturing government securities refused to accept new securities offered in exchange.

As a result the treasury will resort to emergency borrowing next week to raise the money needed to pay off the old securities.

This problem, in the obscure field of management of the national debt, accounts as much as anything else for President Eisenhower's feeling of urgency about a balanced budget. Officials insist there is no "crisis" but their concern is undisguised.

The unanimous feeling among government financial officials is that a balanced budget would make the treasury's task of selling its securities much easier. The $13,000,000,000 deficit in this year's budget has largely created the problem.

The feeling is eqully unanimous that emergency borrowing required by set-backs like this one make the inflation problem worse.

The announcement of emergency borrowing gave the results of a major financing operation announced last week and conducted in the first part of this week.

Despite favorable interest rates, holders of $2,100,000,000 of the $9,200,000,000 of publicly held maturing issues refused to accept the new issues and demanded cash.

This was not a record "attrition" but it was second in amount only to the $2,800,000,000 attrition of an exchange issue last summer that was floated during the sudden collapse in the government securities market.

The underlying reason appears to be a general nervousness in the money market — a nervousness connected with the treasury financing operations required by the $13,000,000,000 budget deficit and the possibility of another deficit in the next budget.

Some investors have switched their money from treasury and other bonds into stocks as a better hedge against inflation.

Some, watching the economy on the rise and expecting heavy demand for credit, look for higher interest rates soon and thus prefer to hold cash for a while.

The treasury announcement symbolized a sort of vicious circle that operates in the financial world. If investors fear inflation they will not buy long-term treasury bonds. That means the treasury must float ever-shorter securities.

Because these are practically the equivalent of cash, and because they often must be sold to the banking system, they tend to expand the nation's money supply and make the inflation problem — and psychology — worse.

Then as the federal reserve tries to combat this with restrictive monetary policies, bond prices fall further and the problem of the treasury seems even worse.

Senators Vote Aid, 63 to 22

Demos Tone Down Original Proposal

By Herald Wire Services

WASHINGTON — The Senate dealt President Eisenhower his second economy setback in 24 hours Friday night by passing a 465-million-dollar airport aid program, far bigger than one he sought.

The roll call vote was 63 to 22.

The Democratic bill, like a housing measure passed Thursday night, went hundreds of millions of dollars beyond the spending recommendations of the President.

Even so, the Democrats showed some signs of yielding to the President's economy demands. Before serious debate on the bill got underway, they agreed to a 100 million dollar cut in their own bill.

The Democrats drew the economy line at their own recommendation, however. They swamped Republican attempts to pare the bill down to a size approximating the administration request.

Meanwhile, a House banking subcommittee Friday voted for a $2,100,000,000 housing bill, far less than its Democratic sponsors originally proposed.

However, it was still about half a billion dollars larger than President Eisenhower recommends.

The administration's housing chief, Norman P. Mason, held back on whether to recommend that Eisenhower veto the $2,675,000,000 housing bill passed by the Senate Thursday night.

Mason said that "we cannot make a verdict until the legislation is complete."

The House Banking Committee is expected to have its bill ready for House action within two weeks.

While the subcommittee's figure was lower than the one in the Senate bill, the House already has voted a separate housing bill to provide 300 million dollars in direct home loans to veterans. There is 150 millions in the Senate bill for this purpose.

The House bill as originally drafted by Rep. Albert Rains (D., Ala.) called for housing loans and grants of around three billion dollars.

The airport bill would authorize 100 million dollars in each of four years for direct federal grants to states and localities in construction of runways, taxiways, loading aprons and other aviation facilities, as well as airport terminals.

Its Democratic sponsors said it did not include aid for "frills" such as terminal restaurants, cocktail lounges and game rooms.

Sixty-five million dollars of the money authorized by the bill would be parceled out as needed.

Each federal dollar would have to be matched by a dollar of state or local funds.

Of the 100 million dollars a year, 75 per cent would be allocated to states on the basis of population. The remaining

2 Judges Voided Traffic Tickets

Metro Court records revealed Friday that Judge Edwin E. Strickland voided a traffic ticket for his brother and that Judge Charles Snowden did a similar favor for the wife of a Miami municipal judge,

In the two cases:

— A SPEEDING TICKET issued Nov. 11 to Alton Merrill Strickland, of 600 E. Eighth Lane, Hialeah, was disposed of at the instructions of his brother, Judge Strickland.

A written notation on the ticket reads: "Void—Edwin E. Strickland."

—A TRAFFIC CASE involving Mrs. Francis Sobieski, attorney wife of the Miami Municipal Court judge, was delayed and later withdrawn after orders by Judge Snowden.

Sobieski

Mrs. Sobieski, of 951 NW 10th Ct., was given a traffic ticket Oct. 14 for going through a stop sign.

Following the disclosures, County Attorney Darrey Davis commented:

"No one, judge, police officer or court attache has the right to void a ticket. Only the state attorney as the prosecuting officer has the right to withdraw or say he does not want to prosecute.

Snowden, a former Miami judge and a friend of the Sobieskis, maintained a "misunderstanding" in his orders to the prosecuting assistant state attorney resulted in the withdrawal of Mrs. Sobieski's case.

He said he requested Assistant State Attorney Al Sepe to delay the issuance of a warrant to Mrs. Sobieski because she was in bad health.

In accordance with procedure, Mrs. Sobieski had been given 48 hours after receiving the traffic citation to pay a fine or have her case set in court.

"The transmission of my request to Sepe apparently was garbled and the case was marked 'No Action.'" Snowden said. "Later, Sepe informed me that the copy of her ticket was missing from the files and I told him to forget about it then."

Snowden emphasized, "If any criticism is leveled it

U.S. Talkin' Turkey, Now!

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government ruled Friday that workers given Christmas turkeys by their employers don't have to pay income tax on the value of the birds.

Tax laws are vague on this point. One tax collector in Tacoma, Wash., has been trying to collect income tax on turkeys distributed by an employer there.

The Internal Revenue Service announced a new administrative ruling which says turkeys, hams and other merchandise of nominal value do not constitute taxable income when a businessman distributes them to all his workers at Christmas or a comparable holiday to promote good relations.

It further ruled that such distributions may be deducted by employers as ordinary and necessary business expenses.

Battered Oswego Hit By New Lake Storm

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The city of Oswego, with more than 155 inches of snow so far this winter, braced itself Friday night for a new storm sweeping in off Lake Ontario.

Since mid-afternoon more than five inches of new snow lashed at the city and its outskirts. It was still snowing late Friday night.

The storm covers an area east and west along the lake front clogging secondary roads and bringing warnings from state police against unnecessary travel.

Seventy-five pupils remained overnight at the Campus School, part of the state university. They were bedded down in their classrooms. School officials said they would attempt to have them home today. The storm caught the students just before dismissal time.

Originally 350 students were in the school, but parents of all but the 75 managed to break through the snow to bring their children home.

Temperatures slid down to -39 in Hibbing, Minn., -24 in Bismarck, N.D., -13 in Green Bay, Wis., -11 in Minneapolis-St. Paul, -10 in Marquette, Mich., -7 in Rockford, Ill., -2 in South Bend, Ind.

Chicago, in the midst of a long siege of rugged weather, had a low of zero.

Eddie DeLarm Has Plenty of Irons in the Fire
. . . sign on his Hialeah fishing shack lists only a few

By STEVE TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

One-stop service stations have long been popular with touring motorists.

Eddie DeLarm runs what probably is the world's only one-stop station for honeymooners at his Trading Post at 93 W. Okeechobee Rd., Hialeah.

As signs in front of the multi-activity place proclaim, he can and will marry you. He says with his notary public license he has hitched some 300 couples a year for the past five years.

Then, without moving the parked car, the happy couple can buy a fishing license and tackle, ranging from cane poles to very fine spinning rods, such live bait as fish worms, minnows or fresh water shrimp, and artificial bait.

If the potential honeymooners are even more sports minded — or if either suspects he or she may soon tire of the other — Eddie also sells a complete line of rifles, pistols, and ammunition.

Eddie, an Arapaho Indian and the first of his race to become a licensed airplane pilot in 1916, is hot about smoking. He credits his aversion to both smoking or drinking as responsible for the fact that, at the age of 70, he looks nearer 50.

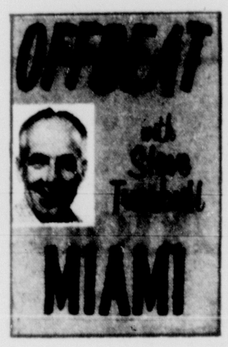
Eddie's standard rates for splicing couples is $5, if you are just plain ordinary folks. If you drive up in a Cadillac, a Lincoln or a Packard, the rate may be $10.



Eddie explains this sliding scale in this manner:

"I marry a lot of the poorer ones for nothing. If it has reached the point where the girl obviously should be married — if you know what I mean — and if they are down on their luck, I just marry them for free.

"Then I stick the next prosperous couple an extra $5. I'm like a doctor, I try to charge according to their means."

"I've married all kinds of them," he said, "White ones, colored ones, Cubans, Puerto Ricans, and a lot that definitely should have been married a long time before they came to see me.

"I get a lot of the bashful ones. It's quiet out here and we don't make a big fuss about it. There's a perfectly legal ceremony, and they get a wedding certificate just the same as they would if they were married by a judge or a preacher."

To cover the many activities in which Eddie is engaged there are some 17 occupational licenses tacked on the inside of the door leading to his repair shop — which is still a different enterprise.

There is still another sideline listed on one of the signs. Eddie also is in the import-export business, a carry-over from the days when he owned an airline in Venezuela. He lost the airline in 1952 through what he says was "politics."

In addition to the alleged perfidy of certain Latin American politicians and people who smoke, Eddie's current peeve is at the state's present system of issuing fishing licenses. There are, he says, too many licenses, three-day licenses, 14-day licenses, season licenses, resident-licenses, and non-residence licenses.

Eddie says it confuses and angers people so much they just don't go freshwater fishing. And when they neither fish nor get married it's a sad day at DeLarm's Trading Post.

Battle Pledged to Learn Fate of Fliers

U.S. Hopes Plane Attack Data Forces Russian Hand

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The U.S. said Friday it hopes shocked world opinion will force Russia to produce the facts in the case of an unarmed U.S. plane allegedly shot down by Soviet fighters five months ago.

The State Department pledged especially to do everything possible to determine the fate of the 11 men still unaccounted for out of the crew of 17 that went down with the Air Force transport over Soviet Armenia.

Simultaneously, Department Press Officer Lincoln White said he understood that President Eisenhower approved release of tape-recorded evidence which this government said showed the Russians deliberately shot down the plane without warning.

However, White said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles approved the timing of the disclosure, which was made Thursday. Dulles is now in Europe for vital talks with British, French and West German leaders on the Soviet threat to Berlin.

The U.S. evidence included a tape recording of intercepted conversations among the Soviet fighter pilots charged with shooting down the plane and articles from a Russian air force journal describing just such an incident.

White, terming this evidence strictly "authentic," said, "we hope in the light of revelations of the facts and the shock to world opinion that it has produced, the Soviet government will come forward with the facts in this case."

His appeal came as two unidentified airmen who were killed in the incident were given heroes' funerals in Arlington National Cemetery. The Air Force accorded full military honors and high officials joined 250 airmen in the solemn rites.

The two were among six bodies the Russians acknowledged finding in the crash. They turned them over to U.S. authorities. The Soviets deny any knowledge of the 11 still unaccounted for. They also claim the plane crashed and burned after "violating" the Russian border.

Among those attending the Arlington ceremonies was Mrs. Ila Mello, Columbia, S.C., wife of one of the American crewmen. Her husband was Technical Sgt. Arthur L. Mello, Erie, Pa. He could be one of those buried or one of those still listed as missing.

She wept during the burial ceremonies.

White did not say what steps the State Department planned if Russia failed to produce any additional information. But other officials said several courses of action were open to this country.

It could level a new demand that Moscow acknowledge its guilt and promise there would be no recurrence. A claim also could be filed for financial compensation for the human and material loss. Or the case could be carried to the International Court of Justice to have Russian conduct in the affair branded as "uncivilized."

White said the department decided to release its evidence only after Russia refused to say anything about the 11 missing men.

Crash Ends Teenagers' Wild Ride

Three Miami teenagers, driving a stolen car, roared away from police at speeds up to 120 miles an hour Friday in a chase that ended when the car smashed into a house.

The youths were seriously hurt. The wild chase started about 22 miles west of Fort Lauderdale near the intersection of U.S. 27 and State Road 84. It ended more than 20 miles away, south of South Bay, police said.

The injured boys were taken to Belle Glade hospital after their car spun out of control, crashed into a house and then into a tree.

The Highway Patrol identified the youngsters as Ed Habershaw, 14, of 3617 SW 22nd Ter.; David Lawrence, 13, and Donald E. Reeder, 15. Officers had no address for Lawrence and Reeder.

The patrol said the car was stolen from the Coral Gables home of Stephen Gergits, 445 Catalonia Ave. The Gergits home was broken into at the same time, police said, and a quantity of jewelry stolen.

It's Drama in the Sky While Miamians Sleep

The Coast Guard, Air Force and Navy teamed Friday night to guide a civilian pilot and his passenger safely through Miami's overcast before their plane ran out of fuel.

The Coast Guard said it received a call from Rinaldo B. Page of Wilmington, N.C., reporting he was "lost" above Miami and running low on fuel.

Page is publisher of the Wilmington Star-News.

He said the overcast was so thick he could not see a thing on the ground, and that he was not qualified to fly on instruments.

The Navy at Opa-locka however, directed a Coast Guard plane to the side of the single-engine civilian aircraft by using a radio direction finder, and the Coast Guard plane shepherded Page to Homestead Air Force Base.

The Homestead tower, using ground control radar equipment, directed Page onto the field on the second pass. Page "got lost" on his way through the overcast the first time, but landed safely on the runway the second attempt.

The parade will begin at 12:30 p.m.

25 per cent would be alloted on the basis of need.

The 65 million dollars would be distributed entirely on the basis of need. Another 10 million dollars of funds already on hand would be added to this program to bring the "emergency" fund up to the 75 million dollar level originally proposed by its Democratic sponsors.

The bill now goes to the House which has not yet held hearings on it. Eisenhower last year vetoed a similar measure after Congress had gone home.

Virus Research Gains Hailed as Greatest in Era

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said Friday research on respiratory ailments, including the common cold, has made greater strides in the past few years than in the entire previous generation.

He said a recently recognized group of respiratory viruses apparently was responsible for more acute respiratory disease among hospitalized children and infants last year than influenza.

His announcement followed up preliminary reports last November that the viruses — called "hemadsorption viruses" — have been found to cause a variety of respiratory ills, ranging from mild fever-producing illness to pneumonia and croup. They are so named because they cause red blood cells of fowl to clump together in test-tubes.

They were accidentally discovered early last year during research related to the outbreak of Asian flu.

Burney said a large-scale study made in the nation's capital by doctors of the Public Health Service and Children's Hospital has shown that on a year-around basis, these viruses cause 50 per cent more respiratory illness in children than does flu. The report emphasized, however, that at other times and in other areas the results might be substantially different.

Appraising this study in relation to research on respiratory viruses in general, Burney said:

"The new knowledge uncovered in this study represents an important advance against one of our major public health problems.

"For the first time we are beginning to discern the actual outline of the problem: What viruses are involved in these widely prevalent diseases; how frequently they attack the population; and what age groups are most susceptible.

"These are the questions which must be answered before we can expect to devise practical preventive measures, such as vaccines, with much hope of success."

Arkansas Gets Ready for Jail

LITTLE ROCK —(AP)— The Arkansas House Friday passed a bill to permit school board meetings to be held in jail if a member should be incarcerated because of opposition to court-ordered integration.

Mother Appeals To Castro

Cuban Hero Fidel Castro, who will personally decide the fate of a Miamian held in a plot to kill him, was weighing a tearful appeal Friday from his mother.

Mrs. Helen Lynch, mother of Alan Robert Nye, formerly of 107 Calabria Ave., Coral Gables, forwarded a letter to the rebel leader beseeching him to spare her son.

Nye, a former Navy pilot, was imprisoned by the revolutionary forces after he allegedly admitted being offered $100,000 to kill Castro.

But he told a U. S. embassy official Friday that he never made a "confession" attributed to him by the Cuban government.

In her letter, Mrs. Lynch, of Whiting, Ind., said:

"I earnestly beseech you to spare me further grief and sadness.

"I feel I am entreating a person of compassion and kindness. You, as a father, must share my feelings."

Murder Tale On Level?

A Florida man whose story of fatally shooting Ojus bartender Vernon Brubaker was considered a hoax at first, was taken from a Rhode Island mental Hospital and jailed Friday night after being questioned by a Dade County deputy.

Police at Lincoln, R.I., said Charles W. McCarthy, 27, of West Hollywood was questioned by Norman Kassoff of the Dade County Department of Public Safety.

National Summary

Fair weather is expected to extend from the southern Rockies across the midsection of the country and into most of the East, but with snow flurries from the Great Lakes into the northern Appalachians, while partly cloudy skies across the Gulf states contribute rain over southern Texas and showers in southern Florida.

Although a cold pattern is in store through Saturday along the Atlantic states, warming, from the central Rockies into the Great Lakes, will reach the Ohio and lower Mississippi Valley on Saturday with snow across the upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes.

A thrust of cold air from Canada will drop temperatures to cold wave proportions over parts of Montana with local blizzard conditions and four inches or more of new snow and by Saturday the colder air and scattered snows will expand to the northern and central plains and push southward over Colorado.

Showers of rain or snow will accompany colder weather over the Pacific northwest and a few showers or snow flurries are likely to reach the mountains of northern Arizona and southern California.

As president of the Swiss Confederation for 1958, Holenstein was chief representative of some 4,715,000 persons. The picturesque little country, traditionally neutral, occupies 15,940 square miles. A lawyer and former teacher of law, Holenstein was elected to the Bundesrat (federal council) for a four year term in 1954. His term will end Dec. 31. His hobbies are skiing and mountain climbing.

It Wasn't A Bomb, It Was Hoax

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A bomb scare sent police hurrying to the Russian embassy Friday when an unidentified man dropped a briefcase in the vestibule. Attaches said the man ran away.

The case, however, turned out to contain nothing more deadly than a couple of books and three school diplomas.

Meanwhile, a tight police cordon was thrown around the area and a search was instituted for a man described by embassy officials as 37 to 38 years old. He was said to be about 5 feet 10 inches, weighing around 150 pounds, of medium build and well dressed with a dark brown hat and light gray topcoat. He wore horn-rimmed glasses.

Police Capt. Otto P. Fuss said the diplomas in the briefcase were in the name of Quentin F. Soik and were from the Jerusalem Lutheran School of Milwaukee, the Walton School of Commerce in Chicago and a high school in Milwaukee.

Deputy Police Chief Howard V. Covell said the brown case was picked up and pitched into the street by an embassy aide, who immediately called police.

The Russians said no one was unduly upset, and as a matter of fact, most people in the embassy went right on eating their lunch.

2 Nazi Guards Get Life for Atrocities

BONN—(AP)—Two former Nazi concentration camp guards were convicted of mass murder Friday and ordered jailed for life.

The verdict ended a trial that began Oct. 13. The prosecution labeled the defendants "the beasts of Sachsenhausen" concentration camp.

Sentenced to life imprisonment were Gustav Sorge, 47, and Wilhelm Schubert, 41. Each admitted many of the charges against them but testified they were acting under orders. Both were members of the SS, or Elite Guard. Life imprisonment is the most severe penalty possible under German law.

Schubert acknowledged he was ashamed of what he had done. But he told the court "I was ordered to do it. The order came from the Wehrmacht high command."

UM to Open Year-Long Self-Study

The University of Miami will make a year-long self-improvement study of itself, according to Jay F. W. Pearson.

The project will be directed by Dr. J. M. Godard, dean of administration.

"The self-study program will seek to identify the specific role of the University of Miami in higher education and will conclude with recommendations for improvements," Pearson said.

Teaching methods, administrative procedures, admission policy, budgeting, and guidance programs will be included in the study.

It will be conducted along lines suggested by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which has asked all of its members to make such studies within the next ten years.

Oldsters' Audacity Brings Crop of Dollars

Homestead Fulfills Dreams of Its Pioneers

By STEPHEN TRUMBELL
Herald Staff Writer

In certain quarters the fellow who ate the first raw oyster is credited with having been the world's bravest man.

In the South Florida lexicon of audacity, that fellow was a timid Susan compared to the settlers who moved into South Dade County in the early 1900's and picked holes in the rock to plant groves.

The oyster eater risked only a temporary stomach ache. The South Dade pioneers gambled their futures and that of their wives and kids on a hat full of dirt to each 10 tons of rocks. Their sole aides were picks, strong backs, a mule and maybe a few sticks of dynamite — plus brave hearts.

Today a fine city rapidly approaching the 10,000 population mark stands as a monument to their audacity. We call it Homestead, as 26 of these hardy souls named it when they incorporated it on Jan. 13, 1913 — some nine years after the settlement was started.

It's now the center of the county's 50-million-dollar-a-year agricultural economy. Thousands of acres of fine groves stretch out to the north and the west of the city.

Far to the south and the east are more thousands of acres of truck crops — riches some years, heartaches others.

The pine houses of the Homesteaders have, for the most part, given way to country homes that denote gracious living. The town has sprouted with scores of new businesses — but agriculture is still king, despite the big payroll and the 15,000 men at nearby Homestead Air Force Base.

PROFILE OF A TOWN

In bad years, like low-price 1957 and frozen 1958, the entire town "hurts." This year — at least as of this writing — both prices and the growing weather is good, and Homestead smiles again.

It's in its best financial position of years — probably in its entire history. The books are in the black, the tax roll is up to nearly 23 million-dollars (from less than three million in 1945). The municipal light plant put $112,500 in general revenue fund last year, after setting aside a nice chunk for cash reserve.

It would, of course, be more than slightly misleading, to say that everything is always just peachy in the Homestead municipal family. Like other cities, they have their hot factional battles. J. B. (Sonny) Henderson, city manager for the past couple of years, is in no bed of roses.

Neither, at times, is it one of those things for veteran Tom Harris, here since 1912 and has served eight terms as mayor. He now says: I think they're finally about to shoot me."

Many of the pioneers still live on in the area to see the results of their faith in these acres of rock and hard pine. Listing them is risky, because some are always overlooked, but a quick survey of today's scene comes up with these names:

Mrs. W. J. Krome, whose husband was chief engineer for Henry Flagler when he was pushing his railroad southward from Miami. The Kromes and many other "railroaders" took up the first homesteads in this area.

Harvey and Anna Fitzpatrick, Al Lindgren (who brought the first modern rock breaking machines to the area), V. M. Grinnell; Mrs. W. D. Horne, widow of the town's first hardware man, several members of the Caves, Waldron and Ingraham families, and J. D. Reed, a member of the original town council and a former Dade County commissioner.

Thomas Collins, city tax assessor, is the son of a pioneer couple. His wife is a daughter of the pioneer Grinnell.

Great stories are told when these old timers get together, tales of the days when the town's "meat market" was a pine stump where the First National Bank now stands, and where an enterprising fellow carved up a side of beef while the customers waited in line.

In those earlier days the wives studied grove culture along with their husbands and many of them still know far more about grove management than do some of the more recent grove owners.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, with a gift for putting words on paper, has long been urged to do a history of this area. She's still too active to sit down and get it started.

Today's Homestead has two newspapers. Ben Archer, who has been running the Leader Enterprise since the days when a basket of produce would pay for a subscription, now has combined with the Perrine paper and it is the Homestead Leader-Perrine Post.

Polly Rose Balfe has made a broader bow by Homestead by changing the name of her paper from the Redland District News to the Homestead News. There's now also a radio station there, WSBD.

Grapefruit, the first target for the grove planters, has long since given way to limes and avocados. The early day planters lived adequately if not too lavishly from these crops, on relatively small acreages.

More recent growers of these tree crops have found the returns dwindling — so much so that some plantings have gone into the far more lucrative real estate market. In 25 years grove land has gone from $30 an acre to around $3,000 in this area.

If Dade County reaches that predicted two million mark by 1977, far more of them will have gone that route.

Police Win Round in Legal Feud

Held up pending a Circuit Court decision were:

Firing of six patrolmen, abolition of three patrolmen positions, dismissal of a department woman clerical worker and the transfer of another.

The city will have until Feb. 11 to file an answer to Friday's decision, which upholds an earlier decision.

North Miami's tangled legal battle has brought angry charges from Police Chief Karl E. Engel that Mayor Sasso and a three-man council majority "want to gut the police department and punish the people of North Miami."

The city officials claim a $64,000 slash they ordered in the police department budget is for economy and to "make Metro work."

Tentative agreement with the county calls for the police department to turn over its radio communications system to Metro, pending the outcome of the court dispute.

Airline Employes Seek Traffic Balm

By PHIL FORTMAN
Herald Staff Writer

Embittered over bumper-to-bumper traffic jams around Miami International Airport, three Eastern Air Lines mechanics Friday began circulation of a petition to get the Metro County Commission to "do something" about it.

By nightfall the petition bore the names of about 2,000 EAL employes, according to Carl Gardner, 400 NE 132nd Ter. NORTH MIAMI.

Two other EAL mechanics, E. R. Gidlund, 400 E. 29th St., and Fred Campiglia, 952 E. 19th St., HIALEAH, joined Gardner in launching the petition.

Informed of the move late Friday, County Traffic Engineer George Kunde immediately expressed a desire "to sit down with those concerned to talk things over . . . to perhaps speed up traffic plans for the area."

The mechanics proposed three-lane traffic out of the airport area during peak afternoon hours — 3:30 to 6 — and one in-bound lane.

Gardner said the petition will be forwarded to employes of other air lines and shops at Miami International.

"Sometime back there was talk of building a temporary traffic river - canal - crossover which would be a continuation of East Eighth Avenue in Hialeah until a permanent overpass can be worked out," Gardner said. "But it's all just been county talk, so far."

Kunde said the county has a design set up for the entire 36th Street-LeJeune Road area problem.

Little Profit In Money Order Theft

Five men accused of stealing more than $100,000 in express checks and postal money orders cashed only a few of them, Metro police said Friday.

Detective L. J. Van Buskirk said only 58 money orders were cashed for small amounts. He said a majority of the total of over $106,000 has been recovered from a home in OPA-LOCKA.

The five accused men are Gerald L. Fisherman, 26, of 16040 NW 18th Pl., Willie Edward Lawrence, 27, of 1730 NW 66th St., Frank Hanks, 25, of 1401 NW 59th St., James Lee Spivey, 24, of 16201 NW 19th Ave., and Manfred L. Heard, 23, of 2150 Service Rd., all of Opa-locka.

FALL GUY for the fun-loving Saints and Sinners in Washington was Charlie Halleck, Indiana Republican who is minority leader in the House. Halleck, who isn't much for gags—he's too busy pushing administration-desired legislation—took time out to gag it up and put on a clown's hat for his role of fall guy.

Hepburn Told Not to Walk

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — X-rays show that Actress Audrey Hepburn, injured when thrown from a horse in Mexico, suffered several fractured vertebrae and will not be able to walk for three weeks.

"I feel fine — just fine," Miss Hepburn said as she was taken to her Beverly Hills home after the X-ray session at a hospital.

The actress was on location for a movie in Mexico when her back was injured in the accident.

MELBOURNE, Australia— Italian Comedian Walter Chiari says his romance with film Star Ava Gardner is over.

"But it was a beautiful friendship," Chiari added.

"Why did I fly all the way to Australia? I wanted to see Ava and I wanted to see Australia. Ava and I were good friends, you know."

Miss Gardner is in Melbourne making the movie "On the Beach" and has been seen several times recently in Sydney in groups with U.S. Tennis Star Tony Trabert, who is playing in Australian tournaments. Despite romantic speculation by Australian papers, Trabert says they're only friends and that his wife back in the U.S. understands.

Chiari appears today in a show at the Melbourne stadium. He said he expects most of the "On the Beach" company will attend — except Ava.

Japanese Medic Changes Bases

LONACONING, Md. — Dr. Mikio Kato, who served as the only doctor on a little Chesapeake Bay island for more than a year, will begin practicing medicine in this Western Maryland town Monday.

Dr. Kato agreed to leave Japan in 1957 at the invitation of residents of Tangier Island, Va. However, after 19 months on the island, the 34-year-old Japanese physician realized there was little for him to do.

"I feel as if I'm getting rusty," he explained three months ago. The 1,100 or so islanders were just too healthy.

So he decided to leave the historic community of fishermen and go to the coal mountain country of Western Maryland.

A Confusion of Clamor

Missile, Missile, Who's Got...?

MARSHAL Rodion Y. Malinovsky, Soviet Minister of Defense, said Tuesday that Russia has hydrogen missiles that can be slung thousands of miles to strike "precisely any point."

President Eisenhower, speaking at his Wednesday news conference, said this sounded to him "rather like propaganda words."

Last Jan. 22, as Drew Pearson points out, U.S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy said there was "no positive evidence" Russia will have an operational ICBM before we do, but a week later he said we didn't plan to match missiles with Russia anyway.

On Tuesday of this week Mr. McElroy got a little more specific. He also became more candid. We'll have "a few" operational ICBM's by July, he said, and by December we'll be "within a few missiles of what we would expect the Russians to have at that time."

Last week Dr. T. Keith Glennan, who heads our space agency, reported to Congress that Russia holds an 18-month to two-year lead over the United States in development of rocket power, which makes the big ones go.

All is wonderful confusion, isn't it?

PERHAPS the reason is the extraordinary chorus of voices, the miles of press releases and the constant trotting up and down the path to Capitol Hill.

Since Jan. 16 Secretary McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, have spent nearly 40 hours elapsed time in testifying before six different committees of Congress.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army Chief of Staff, has made five congressional appearances since Jan. 22.

Allen Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, is credited with three appearances in the last few weeks.

Poring over clippings and committee records, we find the name of nearly every general hale enough to bear the weight of three or more stars and climb steps.

One of them told the House Committee on Science and Astronautics — a far cry from the good old days when a fellow only had to puzzle over rivers and harbors or farm parity — that the United States "must move at an extremely rapid pace" to match the Soviet's space age challenge.

Asked if he was satisfied with the progress thus far, he said: "I always want to see technology move faster."

IF the situation looks helpless from the standpoint of mere communication, it must not be painted as hopelessly black.

Much the same sort of argument now going on intramurally was heard not many years ago on the eve of the Korean War. At that time we were spending $12.5 billion on defense, and now we are budgeted at $41 billion.

Even allowing for inflation — economically and politically — the dollar concern for defense has appreciated.

But that, of course, is not the point. The point is a fair measure of public confidence in our arms prowess, and this can come only with more candor and less confusion.

What the Foreign Policy Association has described as the Revolution in Weaponry is a grim and serious business. The destructive capability of modern weapons is fantastic. The recital of these horrors goes on while statecraft is muddled and negative.

THERE is some reason to believe that all of this is greatly disturbing to many Americans.

It is hardly reassuring to say that, at worst, the missile arms race can only end in a dead heat. "Dead" and "heat" are overpoweringly synonymous in the age of hydrogen fission.

It might be fair to ask, then, as old Vinegar Joe Stilwell put it, that someone poke his head in the door and shout: "Now, listen all you blankety-blanks, shut up!"

And then let us get the consensus of a few knowledgeable voices, quietly assessing the situation, summing it up and handing it to the public, nut-shell size.

The American people always respond to the truth — if they are told it in time.

Just Once Too Often

FOR ONCE, it seems, the American public has reacted with the vigor of yesteryear to a deliberate and wanton provocation by a foreign power.

The sense of outrage over the shooting down of an unarmed military transport plane in Soviet Armenia is bitter and widespread. All the evidence of a carefully compiled record fixes the blame on the Soviet Union. The record shows further that, faced with the facts, Russian officials took refuge in lies.

Of course, the airplane should not have been where it was—well over a touchy border ringed with American installations. That it strayed there innocently or was lured there, however, is perfectly plain.

Civilized nations do not rectify error with murder. Nor do they thrust blame for warlike acts lightly aside while professing peace—and, in this instance, brazenly inviting President Eisenhower to come visit.

If satisfaction for this outrage is not obtained at once, suitable retaliation can and must be made in a manner that will bring the rulers of Russia to their senses.

The United States has been pushed around just once too often.

It's Supposed To Work This Way

WHY NOT have the county attorney provide the legal service for the Port Authority?

That's the sort of thing people here thought they were voting for when they cast their ballots repeatedly for Metropolitan Home Rule.

Similar reasoning applies to police and fire protection for Miami International Airport and other Port Authority properties. Logic suggests that these should be specialized units of Metro's public safety department.

Before Metro, various branches of the county government had their own lawyers. Nothing prevented them from working at cross purposes or even suing one another.

Now that County Attorney Darrey A. Davis is Metro's official legal adviser, the possibility of such confusion is wiped out. So are multiple payrolls and the waste inherent in having some lawyers with little to do. Mr. Davis and his staff work full time and more.

THE PORT Authority is the proprietary part of the county government, not a department of Metro. It is run directly by the county commissioners. Under the charter, the county attorney also is directly responsible to them.

Thus the decision on whether to put the county attorney in charge of legal work for the Port Authority is wholly a question of policy for the county commissioners.

Safety services for the airport are partly a matter of policy and partly administrative. It's up to the commissioners to decide whether they should be assigned to Metro's Public Safety Director Thomas J. Kelly. If so, then Kelly's boss, County Manager O. W. Campbell, would have the duty of telling Kelly how to carry out this additional duty.

Because administration is involved, the commissioners might well first consult Campbell, their chief executive, and weigh his views in making their decision.

That is the way Metro is supposed to work. And in every case, its aim should be to get rid of duplication so as to provide the best possible services at the least possible cost.

Even So, Poll Shows They Still 'Like Ike'

IT'S odd. The Eisenhower Administration is under fire from all sides, and last November the people turned out in droves to vote down Republicans.

KNIGHT

This "strange political phenomenon" and why it exists is a subject of John S. Knight's Editor's Notebook, which appears in The Herald tomorrow. Also, there's a discussion of the La Guardia air tragedy and the historic background of "liberal."

The Miami Herald

The Time Is Here For Toughness

"GET tough with careless drivers" is the theme of the safety program suggested to the Legislature by the special committee headed by our own State Sen. Joe Eaton.

The committee drafted its proposals in a weekend session at Jacksonville. It asked for laws with teeth.

Bills will be offered for driver education in high schools as a necessary preliminary to licensing, for improved license control to bar drivers with physical defects and bad driving records, and for a stronger state highway patrol.

These are highlights of a program that the people themselves demand. "There is certainly evidence that Florida wants vigorous legislation," said Senator Eaton. "There is a growing demand for 'get tough' laws."

We think he has correctly gauged public sentiment. For a time there were suspicions that we were growing callous to the terrible toll of death and injury on the highways. The daily figures became repetitious and the fact that casualties exceeded those of war became blurred. But safety groups and newspapers have told the tragic story well and the public is demanding action. The bloody record of 1959's first month, when the local accident death toll was the highest ever, was a shocker.

His highway safety committee has done a thorough job. Now it's up to the Legislature.

Voice Of The People

Reds Would Supply Red Ink

Editor The Herald: As an American citizen, allow me to thank you for your editorial attitude toward the prodigality of our national government.

Understand, I am not urging support for that $70 billion budget, which the President likes to refer to as balanced. He is much too willing to skate on thin ice.

The urge should be for very sizable reductions in expenditures, rather than for steadily increasing the tax burden which has been hampering our economy for these many past years.

Having always been convinced that "Charity begins at home" I also believe that it follows that economy, too, begins at home and it behooves us right here, in Florida, to demonstrate our sincerity by cutting out just about all of our requests or demands upon the federal government for appropriations and handouts until there is a sufficient surplus in the treasury to meet them without pushing the nation closer to the edge of bankruptcy.

Has it ever occurred that very probably there is a close relationship between red ink and Red doctrine? I am certain that the Kremlin would be delighted to supply unlimited quantities of red ink for our government to operate with.

Tuition Case Stirs Wrath

Editor The Herald: The news item in The Herald about "Mom of 7 Jailed for Delinquent Son's Tuition" reflects the character of our civilization.

If the state can provide jails for criminals and homes for young hoodlums, why must the same state force the parents to pay a private institution to correct a wayward child?

Indeed that child will grow up to hate the state jurisprudence. Correction is needed, but for whom?

Tom Whetted Kids' Appetites

Editor The Herald: Thirty years ago schoolboys between the ages of 9 and 12 were reading prodigious numbers of those "poorly written" books that are now banned by our library authorities. Their appetite for reading had been whetted.

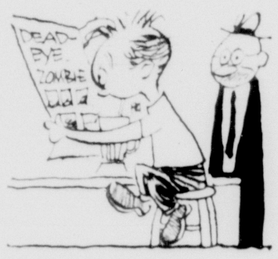
No Accounting For Tastes

Editor The Herald: Larry Thompson is right in his surmise that modern children would be bored with the books of our childhood. Maybe this is not good, but it's true. So don't ban the books, just let them die a natural death.

Still, when one sees 15-year-old boys in drug stores devouring ice cream and horror comics with equal avidity, one wonders . . .



Has anyone ever determined whether a nation's tastes are guided by its publications, or vice-versa?

Get Interested In Cars, Jimmy

Editor The Herald: I always look forward to an enjoyable morning with The Herald and particularly the sports column written by one of the best in the business, Jimmy Burns, but I must take exception to his remarks regarding our county commissioners not being interested in sports.

I can't very well speak for most of these fine gentlemen, but I do know that Commissioner Joe Boyd has done more for automobile racing here in Miami than any other person.

I am truly sorry that Mr. Burns isn't more interested in this most exciting sport, but regardless he is still my No. 1 sports writer.

In fact, he even tops Clure Mosher.

JOHN HOPKINS

Takes A Ph. D. To Work Puzzle

Editor The Herald: I am always touched to read about the teachers of this county who make an average salary of $5,100 and must take odd jobs to pad the purse.

What about the teachers in the institutions of higher learning? Their work load for the same or sometimes smaller salaries also includes teaching several nights a week and often summer school. These teachers have as many as three or four degrees representing 10 or so years at colleges and universities here and abroad.

The community calls on these teachers for free lectures on any topic—related or unrelated to their field. The community demands that they look respectable, live in a decent neighborhood, and drive a vehicle that is not too ridiculous. After these requirements are met, the remaining pennies can go into books, study, travel, etc. to enrich their knowledge.

The reason universities insist on hiring teachers with Ph. D's is that they know anyone incapable of earning the degree could never figure out how to live on the salary offered.

Know Neighbors A Bit Better

Editor The Herald: I want to congratulate you for your nice editorial, "Man of Today and Tomorrow" which is really a subject of actual interest.

Dr. Frondizi deserves credit and admiration for his frankness of discussing openly about how the American press handles the news from Latin America.

We, the people of the U.S., don't know too much about the Latin American republics. We lack not only formal training in the history, the geography, culture, and political affairs of Latin America, but also the primary media of communication with the masses such as the press, the radio, and television.

A very active campaign by the three mentioned systems of communication could be a very good way to create understanding between the people of the United States and the people of the Latin American republics.

Forts Part Of Our Heritage

From St. Petersburg Times

NO TAXPAYER who has been watching the Budget Commission's difficulty in paring down spending requests could be unaware of how unpopular proposals for new expenditures might be greeted by the Florida Legislature next April.

But as a candidate for an exception, we could recommend none more highly than the proposition for the restoration of old Spanish St. Augustine, known to every school child in the land as the oldest city in the United States.

The initial outlay would be $500,000, still a sizable sum even in these days when billions are spoken of casually. But it is a pittance when measured against the merit of the project. The Legislature would be asked for $250,000, the remainder coming from city and county governments and public subscriptions under the plan approved by the Florida Board of Parks and Historical Memorials.

That the historic old forts and other landmarks should be restored and preserved for the people should go unquestioned. The site is a part of our heritage. The Board is on firm ground in its recommendations.

ONE SHOULD not be regarded as inconsiderate or insensitive to suggest that there is another sound argument for the project. A state which benefits as much as Florida does from tourism, and which coincidentally is blessed as the site of such a bit of history, would seem compelled to restore and preserve.

Behind The Front Page

First Let's Get The Facts In Order

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

"IS THE Interstate Commerce Commission obsolete?" asks a letter which comes to my desk from Milwaukee.

I don't know; haven't given the matter thought. When and if I do, I won't be helped by the letter.

It is either from an organization of press agents or propagandists — or is there any difference?

Pennekamp

"IT WAS CREATED in 1887 to police what was then a railroad monopoly of transportation — which no longer exists," says the notice.

"But the ICC still tends to be an obstinate old lady of an agency, jealous of its powers and resistent to change, even though road and water competition has shrunk the railroads' share of intercity freight to 46.4 per cent."

Thereupon it gives a series of examples among them:

"Despite its declared approval of mergers in the public interest, the ICC rejected two of the most obviously equitable and end-to-end consolidations: Frisco plus Central of Georgia and Atlantic Coast Line plus Florida East Coast."

I don't know about the Frisco plus Central of Georgia matter, nor of the others which are recited, but that Atlantic Coast Line plus Florida East Coast rings a bell.

★ ★ ★

THE REAL complaints in the FEC case had little to do with end-to-end consolidation. They were:

1. That the litigation had lasted a record-breaking 28 years, emphasizing the law's inability to insure a reasonably early decision.

2. That a metropolitan city — Miami — was being paralyzed by the resulting frustration.

The railroad's close-in yards and tracks had deadended many in-town streets and its parking and switching were tieing up surface traffic across those which are open.

Further, its downtown station was standing athwart the city's development with the litigation preventing its removal. To a lesser degree these situations prevailed at other points along the 300 mile FEC route.

There has been no change in either situation, but the end is in sight.

THE FEC CASE began when it went into bankruptcy after overextending itself in double tracking during the boom. Ten years later, in 1941, proceedings for its reorganization began.

That launched a monumental fight between two financial giants for control of the now prosperous property: Ed Ball, representing the Florida du-Pont interests and Champion McD. Davis, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

The case bounced around in and between the ICC and the federal courts until last year, when, after Davis resigned, W. T. Rice who succeeded him as ACL's president, withdrew his road's claim.

THE DOWNTOWN station and the in-town tracks and freight yards are still with us because the involved litigation will take at least six months, maybe a year, to untangle.

End-to-end consolidation was a detail of Davis' contention. However Ball won popular support by promising track and station relief here. Nor did the end-to-end argument carry much weight since for all practical purposes the two railroads merged facilities in Jacksonville.

So, while the Milwaukee press agents, or propagandists, harmonize their statements with the facts it is suggested as a worthwhile civic gesture that:

Metro commissioners set up a liaison with Ball to the end that his planning in Miami for the railroad he soon will control harmonizes with the public interest.

Imbalance Inviting Higher Taxes, Prices

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — An economic debacle is in the making. Can it be avoided? Both houses of Congress took a step that may hasten its coming. The American people may learn sooner than anybody has believed possible that a blunder was made in the election last November by giving the Democratic Party control of Congress.

Lawrence

For the threat now is that, if the budget is unbalanced, higher taxes for everybody will have to be enacted. And if the revenues to balance the higher spending are not to be collected by the government, then the American people are in for an era of inflation that could send the cost of living upward and eventually bring the dollar down to a ten-cent purchasing power.

This would mean international danger. For the weakness in the American dollar would have a far-reaching effect on the currencies of Western nations.

THE VOTE in the House and Senate this week on the federal housing program is significant. It was a bold defiance of budget-balancing and an invitation to higher and higher taxes. President Eisenhower has said frankly that, if the budget is unbalanced, he will demand the passage of higher taxes.

The Democrats lined up almost solidly for budget-busting and disregarded the inflationary dangers. Of the 282 Democrats in the House, 257 voted to authorize $300 million to provide direct loans to veterans for housing whenever they cannot borrow from private institutions. Only two Democrats voted with 121 Republicans against the measure.

Just why any group of American citizens should be given such an advantage — especially in these days when there are outcries about "second-class citizenship" and discrimination — is not clear to anybody except the politicians. They think the relatively small number of veterans in the country who can't borrow from private loan institutions is a big enough vote to go after in disregard of the interests of all other voters. But that's selfish and misguided politics.

Democrats cast 51 of the 58 votes in the Senate against the administration's housing program, and in favor of more money than the budget provided. Only seven Democrats voted with 25 Republicans to support the President's budget.

THERE ARE several bills coming up involving the expenditure of more billions than the budget provides. If the Democrats think the country is back of them, they'll make a shambles of the President's budget. There is a feeling here on Capitol Hill that the country doesn't care and that the sky is the limit on public spending if a "welfare" label can be pinned on it.

Indeed, there are many so-called economists who say that the more spent, the more the country will prosper. No private individual has ever been able to get by on a doctrine that favors spending more than one earns or borrowing more than one can pay back.

The only reason the government can borrow large sums while its tax receipts are down is because people have confidence in the ultimate capacity of the treasury to pay back what it borrows. Once this confidence is shaken and government bonds depreciate in value, the government has to pay higher and higher interest rates. The price of everything else goes up correspondingly.

THE BIGGEST worry in America today is how long public confidence will stand up against the spending orgy that has now begun in Congress. Doubtless the labor unions will begin a new series of demands for higher wages if prices of the articles the workers buy start going up. It's an inflationary cycle often called the "wage-price" spiral. Before it runs its course, nations generally do not realize the perils ahead. Only when the shock comes and it is almost too late to apply the brakes is there a popular revulsion.

Nothing would please the Kremlin so much as to see the economy of the United States weakened from within by unsound fiscal policies. For an inflationary trend would make necessary even bigger spending to pay higher prices for the same armament planned many months ago.

This week was a critical one in American history, and the die seems to have been cast in favor of inflation, which means a further devaluation of the purchasing power of the dollar.

Some Current Controls Are at Cross-Purposes

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

CHICAGO — Inflation can be stopped, leaders in the American economy agree. It can be stopped if Congress stops playing politics and:

—AMENDS THE TAX laws to put a premium on thrift instead of waste.

—VOTES STANDBY controls on installment buying and mortgage debt.

—PASSES LAWS to co-ordinate the economic policy of federal agencies so they don't work at cross-purposes.

—AMENDS THE EMPLOYMENT act of 1946 to make stable prices a matter of national policy.

These are among the details in a big blueprint for saving the dollar from ruin.

The blueprint was drawn from the answers to a questionnaire submitted to the keenest money-minds in the country by Sen. Byrd (D., Va.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

This was last year, months before President Eisenhower's Jan. 20 declaration of "relentless war" on inflation and his naming of a cabinet committee to wage it.

Many of the economic experts, among the 71 who answered the Byrd questionnaire, called for reduction of taxes to halt inflation.

Tax cuts usually are thought of as an inflationary tool to be used against recessions. Then how can they be deflationary, too?

★ ★ ★

THERE ARE AT LEAST four reasons:

1. CORPORATION TAXES boost prices because business management passes them on to the consumer.

2. HIGH TAXES raise prices by "siphoning away badly needed savings which could finance industrial growth — particularly from small business, which needs it most."

This was the viewpoint of J. S. Rockefeller, president of the First National City Bank of New York.

When savings are invested, they create more products of services, which cut prices by the law of supply and demand.

3. HIGH TAXES (up to 52 per cent on corporation earnings) encourage wasteful spending by businessmen.

The thinking goes this way: "Let's blow a million on such-and-such a project. Even if it doesn't pan out, the government will foot half the bill in our tax return."

D. B. Jenks, president of the Rock Island Lines, said: "Every time we save a dollar in our expenses, the government gets 52 per cent of the result of our efforts. This is indeed discouraging."

4. HIGH TAXES encourage debt, "because the government pays half the interest cost."

Bonds (which represent debt) are issued instead of stock (which represents ownership).

CARL E. ALLEN, Chicago Federal Reserve Bank president, argued that for these reasons, the United States should institute "a program of progressive tax reduction over the years."

He said "corporate income tax rates are too high for the good of the country" and that the rates on personal income "discourage the incentive to gain which has contributed so much to the growth and prosperity of our country."

Elsewhere in the tax field, Dean Maurice W. Lee of the University of North Carolina School of Business, argued that Congress can't act quickly enough to nip an inflationary boom by boosting taxes.

He said: "If Congress would authorize the executive branch to move tax rates up or down within carefully defined limits, the quick alternations would permit tax policy to be brought in to play at the early and critical stages" of an inflationary boom or a deflationary bust.

He said that it would not only increase revenue in an inflation but would "impress the public with the additional tax burden which must result from increased government expenditures for additional services demanded by the public."

ON INSTALLMENT BUYING and other forms of private debt, manufacturers of consumer products generally thought no restraint was necessary. Others disagreed.

Henry C. Wallich, professor of economics at Yale, said: "I believe that the rate of growth of private debt has at times since 1945 been excessive to the degree of jeopardizing the stability and continuing vitality of our economy."

It was urged that the Federal Reserve Board be given standby authority to control consumer credit.

Alfred Hayes, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, went a step further. He recommended that some federal agency be given the right to vary terms and interest rates of government insured or guaranteed home mortgages.

ALLEN, THE CHICAGOAN, sweepingly condemned all government encouragement of private debt.

He wondered "why some of those in authority keep insisting that more and cheaper loans be not only available from public funds but that they be urged upon those they wish to favor—farmers, small business men and veterans.

"A really helpful service would be to seek ways of getting them out of debt rather than into it," he added.

They pointed out that while the Federal Reserve Board is working to check inflation, others are pulling the other way — boosting farm prices by subsidy or the price of building with slum clearance, public housing and highway projects.

"Multiple sovereignty in financial matters has become a luxury we can no longer afford," said James W. Angell, professor of economics at Columbia University.

He proposed that Congress "create a national planning commission to coordinate the policies and actions of the federal reserve, the treasury, the budget bureau and other agencies."

Angell asked that this commission be given "the power to enforce its decisions."

★ ★ ★

ONE AFTER ANOTHER the economic experts pressed for amendment of the employment act of 1946 to write price stability into over-all national policy.

The act now calls for only "maximum employment, production and purchasing power."

Hayes, of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, said that as the law now stands there is room for misinterpretation, that prices might be allowed to go wild while the other goals are pressed.

Congress asked for it. Now it has it.

Or will Congress play politics?

(This is the last of three articles on how inflation can be stopped. The ideas are those of 71 leading industrialists, bankers and economists submitted to the Senate Finance Committee in a 758-page report.)

Tough Talk!

Spicer-Simson Recognized Many Great Things of Life

The death in Coconut Grove of Theodore Spicer-Simson brought to an end the career of one of the most talented artists of this century.

a Cracker Viewpoint by Nixon Smiley

Ordinarily this work is done by skilled technicians, who are more or less in the same category as tomestone sculptors. But the sensitive artist in Spicer-Simson urged him through years of work—sometimes agonizing work — to make medallion sculpture the highest kind of artistic achievement.

He did medal portraits of many great men who lived in the first half of this century — men like Wilbur Wright, Yeats the poet, George Bernard Shaw and W. H. Hudson.

SPICER-SIMSON was by far the greatest artist I ever had the good fortune to know. You sensed his remarkable intuition, and you felt the sensitivity of his gentle mind.

He had a deep appreciation of nature, and had perhaps a thousand times the awareness of surfaces, light and color than the average person.

I'm sure that Spicer-Simson never had any idea of how much influence he had on my own thinking. To visit his studio was always for me a rich and stimulating experience.

And this is where you always found him, in his studio, surrounded by familiar objects illuminated by the soft north light. Sunshine and deep shadows were too harsh for him. The sharp contrasts of the sun-lit world prevented one from seeing detail or sensing the presence of masses.

SPICER-SIMSON perferred to live in that diffused but pervading, sculpturing light that exists outdoors between sundown and dark, when masses stand out so well and yet detail is so clear to sensitive eyes.

I am especially thankful to Spicer-Simson for introducing me to the writings of W. H. Hudson. He had gotten to know Hudson in the early 1920's in London. He asked me one day if I had read Hudson.

Well, I did know of him. I once had started to read that fantastic book by Hudson, "Green Mansions," but gave up in dispair. I told him about it.

"Oh, that — Green Mansions, he said in the soft and casual tone that was characteristic of him. "Hudson told me he had written that as a pot-boiler; he needed money.

"No," he added, "I really wasn't thinking of that title. Maybe you'd like to read a book of his that I own."

He asked his wife to find the book. She went straight to a shelf in the studio and found it.

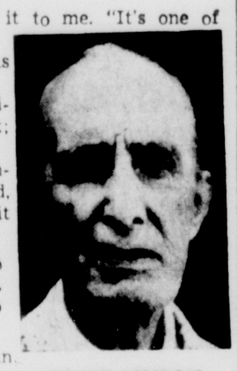
"You must take it with you," Spicer-Simson said. "It's a great book; I hope you like it."

"Theodore did have an autographed copy," Mrs. Spicer-Simson said, "but we loaned it and never got it back.



"Theodore introduced George Bernard Shaw to Hudson's works. Both he and Mrs. Shaw took to reading Hudson."

SPICER-SIMSON

Spicer-Simson recalled the day in London when he and his wife met Hudson and had lunch with him.

The artist was not the best conversationalist, and his wife would fill in details as he outlined the story.

SPICER-SIMSON LATER visited Hudson at the boarding house where he lived and made sketches of him for a medallion portrait he had planned.

In the course of conversation he recalled that he might still have one of the sketches, and asked his wife to help him find it.

Mrs. Spicer-Simson pulled out a cabinet drawer, thumbed through some old papers and found the sketch.

It was in India ink, a few black scratches on a small piece of paper, made by a not-too-steady hand. I had seen pictures of Hudson, but none of them showed the depth of personality as did this little sketch.

It was a marvel of characterization. You had the urge to rub your thumb over the surface to see if it wasn't really an ink-and-paper sculpture.

MY WIFE WAS with me some weeks later when I returned the Hudson book. While in the studio she picked up a small bronze head of a child that lay on a table. She turned it over in her hands to watch the play of the north light on its sculptured form.

"You know," Mrs. Spicer-Simson said, "a doctor once picked up that head and examined it and turned to Theodore and said: 'Look, this child had a very bad case of adenoids'."

After we had left my wife was still thinking about the child's head.

"It looked so natural," she said. "I felt a little strange holding it in my hands."

Fulbright Is Able In Relations Field

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Sen. Green has decided wisely both in resigning as chairman and in remaining as the senior member of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Old men, the Greeks used to say, should not be leaders but councilors, and Sen. Green with his long experience and his vigorous memory will be a good councilor.

Sen. Fulbright, who succeeds LIPPMANN him, is a much younger man. But he is an old hand. In terms of his interest and active participation in foreign affairs, which dates back to the early days of the second World War, there are few if any members of Congress who have such long and continuous inside knowledge.

In thinking about his differences with Mr. Dulles, it is well to remember that insofar as he has been critical, he has spoken as one of the pioneers and early supporters of the global policies which have replaced the old isolationism.

As a matter of fact, a study of his record will show, I believe, that the weight of his criticism has been directed not against the great purposes of foreign policy but against mistakes and distortions in their application.

HIS ADVENT as chairman of the committee marks a turning point for the better in the conduct of our foreign policy. For the first time since the new era which began with World War II, the administration will have a responsible and articulate and loyal opposition.

Until the conversion of Sen. Vandenberg at the end of the war, the opposition was sullen and destructive.

The Vandenberg arrangement was an emergency device for getting indispensible things done. But for the long run it was not a good method of governing.

For instead of promoting debate, which educates the people and refines the policy of the Administration, the Vandenberg bi-partisan system avoided and evaded debate.

The same must be said for the so-called bi-partisan arrangement with Sen. Walter George, who suppressed debate when the country would have been much better served by a thorough debate.

★ ★ ★

THE TIME has now come, as the last three congressional elections have made sharply clear, when — within the framework of our world responsibilities — we must move beyond the stereotypes and the slogans of the post-war years. We cannot stand pat forever on all the positions taken in the post-war era.

For the post-war era is ending, and here and abroad among our allies a new generation is on the threshhold of power.

With Sen. Fulbright the windows of the Senate will be open to the fresh air of a new time.

Ike's Budget? $442.49 a Head

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Rep. Russell V. Mack (R., Wash.) told the House he had asked the Library of Congress how much President Eisenhower's 77-billion-dollar budget would cost each American. The answer: $442.49.

Tax Boost 'Requires' Emergency

Q (Peter Lisagor, Miami-Herald-Chicago News Service) Mr. President, you said that you did not think the American people wanted higher taxes. You also said that you thought localities ought to do some of the things.

Governor Rockefeller of New York has found it necessary to move to get more taxes for what he regards as desirable programs.

Do you think the American people would be willing to accept tax increases from the state, rather than from the federal government? Do you think this is a better approach?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, I do not know, because I don't know the rate of that taxation for these several states. This is what I was talking about.

The federal rate of taxation and what I see as the American reluctance to accept higher rates, unless they can see that there is a clear emergency demanding now current action for which they can be persuaded to make the sacrifice, and I believe they will, if you have got an emergency thing.

But now, let's remember we are planning for 20 years, 30 years, 40 years. We have got to live with this thing.

And as we know, as the population grows, we get more revenues, but we also get in some of these things very much higher costs.

So let us not—when we remember that our taxes run from down to—we have got a $600 exemption now, and we run up to 92 per cent, I believe it is, in the very top ones—I think that income taxes, which are the things that the federal government mainly lives on, that they are getting about as high as you can keep them on the indefinite basis.

Now, I believe you can, for emergency, tough problems, I think you can do more than that.

Wynns' Friends Take Grand Tour Of New Home

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

Soft and subtle pastel shades, becoming to "The Lady With the Lavender Hair," Mrs. Robert M. Wynn, adorn her and Mr. Wynn's new home on N Bay Road. Friends were taking the grand tour and admiring the house on Thursday when the Wynns entertained at a cocktail party.

Mr. and Mrs. Wynn

Elizabeth Wynn, whose dainty Dresden china features are set off by her white hair tinted with the faintest shade of lavender, wore a gold printed silk for the occasion. Her aides and abetters were Lillie Paton and Mrs. Ralph Williams.

An orchestra played for dancing on the waterfront terrace and here Vi Heinz and Dick Walters were doing a fancy cha cha cha. Watching the dancers were Phil Gallagher and his attractive Carey.

Although Phil is one of the most expert dancers among the young marrieds, he and Carey were sitting the dances out and happy about doing it since they are expecting an heir or heiress in April.

Others among the young marrieds were Ann and Jack Jackson (she is Lillie Paton's niece), Terri and Ed Strickland.

The Ed Bennetts were looking over the new wing which the Wynns have added to the Bennetts' former home, and liking same. This includes an enlarged card room, a study, bedroom and bath.

Incidentally, guests were careful where they stepped when wandering about the house not to tread on the heads of two ferocious looking tiger skins, nor on several antelope skins the Wynns brought back from their three trips around the world.

Venturas Are Honored

Mr. Ventura

Mrs. Ventura

Another honor guest was entertainer and toast master par excellence was Georgie Jessel. He fell under the spell of Odette Stewart and asked her if she would consider "living part of the time in Hollywood and part time in the Holy Land!"

Nancy matched the gold decor of her home in pale gold chiffon; the exquisite table cloth was gold and the china had wide gold bands. Wine and champagne were served with a delectable repast after the cocktail hour.

Betty and Charlie left Friday for a week in Nassau. They are looking forward to going to Greece this summer to the house they've bought there on the sea. They say that Greece is as yet unspoiled by tourists, prices are low and they got the house for a song.

Nancy warned Marianne Reynolds, whose date was Harold Lieberman, to be on time "or else," knowing Marianne's penchant for being late. The red head was. She was the first to arrive!

Another red head in the company was Mrs. Ben Novak, there with Mr. N. who owns the Fontainebleau. Brad Dresser said that he was seeing the natural color of his pretty Hilda's hair for the first time since their marriage three years ago. She has been a platinum blonde, her natural tresses are a soft brown.

Visitors Are Guests

Hostess at a luncheon on Thursday for visiting "firemen" was Mrs. David Batcheller, the former Joe Ann Deming. She entertained at the Surf Club for Martha Lebus, Mrs. Gene Van Deren and Joe Ann's mother, Mrs. Osmer Deming, all of Cynthiana, Ky., plus Mrs. Van Meter Fishback of Louisville.

Others in the party of 30 included Mrs. Claude Renshaw, Mrs. David Frischkorn, Mrs. Frank Rooney, Mrs. Arnold Collins, Mrs. R. J. Grove.

Pianist Dohnanyi: A Serene Artist

'I'm Not Quite a Methuselah'
. . . Ernst von Dohnanyi knew Johannes Brahms

By DORIS RENO
Herald Music and Art Editor

"Yes, I knew Brahms—but that doesn't make me QUITE a Methuselah! Everyone seems to have forgotten that Brahms lived until '97. I was already 20 years old when he died."

Celebrity Parade

So 82-year-old Ernst von Dohnanyi disposed casually, and serenely, of the principal "legend" in his life—"he knew Brahms."

"When I was 18 I wrote a piano quintet that Brahms liked. My composition teacher sent him the score and the Kneisel Quartet, with Artur Nikitsch at the piano, played it at Brahms' home.

"Then the next year—just the year before he died—he arranged a performance of it in Vienna, and we attended it together and had a cup of coffee afterwards.

"It wasn't really 'knowing' Brahms—but I admired him very much. It meant a lot to a young man to have 'the master' like something he had written. But no, I never imitated his style."

Dohnanyi, one of the gentlest and most serene artists every to visit this area, never gets in a tizzy about anything —"because everything can be worked out."

When we arrived to interview him at Musicians Club, where he and Mrs. Dohnanyi are staying, he was calmly phoning his housekeeper in Tallahassee that the bag containing his tails and other evening gear had apparently not been sent to the airport with the other bags—and had consequently not arrived in Miami. But he wasn't panicky.

(And sure enough—before the interview was finished, all arrangements had been made, and the missing suitcase was scheduled to arrive a few hours later. So Dohnanyi will be properly attired, as he knew he would be, when he plays his own Second Piano Concerto in B Minor with Fabien Sevitzky and the UM orchestra Sunday evening in Miami Beach auditorium, and at the repeat concert Monday evening in Dade County auditorium.)

'Music Must Be Free'

ATONALISM? Twelve-tone music?

"This is music confined within a system, so it is dull. Music must be free, a composer must write from inspiration. I do not listen a great deal to what is called 'modern' music. I am not fond of machines, so I do not listen to many recordings.

"But I do not have to hear so much of it to know that the modern trend is too speculative.

gers so flexible that reviewers constantly report him as playing with all the technical agility of a young man?

"Ah, until 10 years ago I had to do nothing—now I confess I must practise finger exercises for 30 minutes every day! Even on the road, I have a little silent keyboard that serves. But I was already almost old before I had to begin this. I developed my own set of exercises, and I must say they are quite good.

"No, I never practise otherwise, except when I am learning a new piece."

Dohnanyi says he has no "secret" of youthfulness.

"I don't feel old, and of course there is always so much I have and want to do. So I just keep on doing these things, and I am happy."

* * *

'Modern Music? . . . it is dull'

"You see, if you are just trying to do something because that thing hasn't been done before—if that's the reason for doing it — the result will naturally not live ling. I call this method of composition 'college style'."

Of his own compositions Dohnanyi likes the Second Symphony best—"perhaps because I started it in Austria when I was a DP, then finished it after I was calmly settled in Tallahassee. I only finished it in '56, so it is really quite new."

Fresh Strawberries in Refreshing Salad
. . . avocado, orange juice and lemon juice, too

Salad Treat: Avocado And Strawberry Mold

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

Scarlet strawberries make a bright and beautiful show in a shimmering salad mold.

The gelatin is flavored with orange and lime or lemon juice. Pale green cubes of avocado are folded into the gelatin with strawberries. The salad is sweet enough to serve as both salad and dessert.

And it's a made-in-the-morning dish to give you the afternoon off.

Strawberry-Avocado Salad Mold

Strawberries are a favorite fruit and also a health giving one. They contain vitamins C and A and other important nutrients.

STRAWBERRY-AVOCADO SALAD MOLD

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 cup boiling water
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup orange juice
- ¼ cup lemon or lime juice
- 1½ cups sliced fresh strawberries
- 1 cup diced avocado
- Whole uncapped strawberries for garnish

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water, sugar and salt and stir to dissolve gelatin. Blend in orange and lemon or lime juice.

Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in strawberries and avocado. Pour into a 5-cup mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate.

Garnish with whole strawberries. Serve with mayonnaise or fruit salad dressing. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Truman's 'Double' Is Dead

MR. FISHER

Fisher looked so much like the former President that he fooled lots of prominent people and friends of Truman.

Fisher was a popular singer and appeared in musical comedies for years, including the Ziegfeld Follies. His career began to wane in the 30s.

In 1945, a group at the Lambs Club, where he lived, noticed his resemblance to Truman and tabbed him to impersonate the President in a sketch for a "Circus Saints and Sinners Show."

His new career was born—despite his protests that he was a singer, not an actor, and was a solid Republican.

Later, Fisher made a "shock entrance" at a Republican National Convention. He also appeared on television shows.

"I am sorry as I can be to hear of his death," the former President said at Independence, Mo. "My sincere sympathies go to his family."

Mrs. Martha K. O'Neal

Mrs. Martha K. O'Neal, 74, of 3099 NW 16th St., died Friday. She came here 15 years ago from Nashville, Tenn. Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Florence Mosier, Miami; two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Services will be at 3 p.m. Monday at Lithgow's 54th St. chapel, followed by cremation.

Mrs. Mittie B. Peddin

Services for Mrs. Mittie Bell Peddin, 48, of 788 NW 21st St., who died Thursday, will be in Dunn, N. C., with local arrangements by Lithgow's 54th St. Center. She came here seven years ago from Erwin, N. C. Surviving are her husband James, and two daughters, Mrs. Rosa Bell Reaves, Delco, N. C., and Mrs. Etta Mae Edwards, Erwin, N. C.

William A. Perkins

William A. Perkins, 57, of 2200 SW 17th St., died Friday. He came here five years ago from Fort Pierce, and was a carpenter. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Hicks, Pensacola; six grandchildren, three sisters, including Mrs. Ray Eubanks, Miami; and two brothers. Services will be at 4 p.m. Saturday at Philbrick's Miami chapel, with burial in St. Petersburg.

Thomas A. Postlethwaite

Services for Thomas A. Postlethwaite, 64, of 8200 SW 124th St., who died Thursday, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Philbrick's South Miami-Kendall chapel, with burial in Miami Memorial Park. He came here five years ago from Windsor, N. Y., and was a carpenter. Surviving are his wife Mabel; a daughter, Mrs. George Campbell, Miami; his father, Joseph E., Fort Myers.

John Sodowski

Services for John Sodowski, 76, a retired railroad man, who died Thursday, are under the direction of the Skillman Funeral Home. He came here eight years ago from San Jose, Calif., and lived at 3226 SW 25th Ter. There are no local survivors.

Sol Steinberg

Sol Steinberg, of 935 Eighth St., Miami Beach, died Friday. He was a retired insurance broker. Services will be at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Riverside Alton Rd. chapel, with burial in Lakeside Memorial Park. Rabbi Wise Dies at 77

NEW YORK —(UP)— Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, 77, a founder and longtime national chairman of United Jewish Appeal, died in Doctors Hospital.

Dr. Wise, a native of Cincinnati, was the son of Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise, who founded Reform Judaism in America, calling it "American Judaism."

Track Radio Indictment Is Returned

He was picked up Jan. 24 at Hialeah by Federal Communications Commission agents and track security officers who said he carried a belt full of transistor radio equipment under his shirt.

State's Attorney Richard Gerstein said his office will review evidence with a view to placing a state charge against him, also.

The second suspect, John Quartrone, 31, arrested at Tropical Park Jan. 8, was booked on a state charge of distributing racing information, and is free on bond. FCC agents have brought no charge against him.

Troxel-Hoite Firm Splits

Dick Troxel, partner of Hoite Agey in the publicity agency that holds the county's juicy $27,000 a year account, Friday confirmed reports that the partnership has been dissolved.

"We will continue to handle the county account together," he said, "but I will handle my other accounts from offices I have opened at 1101 NE 79th St., and Hoite will continue with his accounts from his office."

"We found ourself with divergent interests."

Reports of the split were current during the preparations for the dedication of the new terminal at Miami International Airport but Troxel denied it at the time.

Besides Property

Astor's Widow Left $2 Million

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. —(UP)— Multimillionaire Vincent Astor, who died of a heart attack Tuesday at the age of 67, left two million dollars and property to his widow, the former Mrs. Brooke Russell Marshall.

Twenty-five other bequests totaled $827,500. Astor directed that the residual estate be given to the Vincent Astor Foundation which he founded to alleviate human suffering.

Funeral services were held here Friday for Astor, member of the famous family whose fortune came from fur trading and real estate.

There was no estimate of the estate's value. Astor inherited 75 million dollars from his father, John Jacob Astor, at the age of 20.

Astor's first wife, now Mrs. Helen Huntington Hull of Staatsburg, N.Y., was left $25,000 as evidence of "my deep affection and respect." He also left her $10,000 to be given to a charity of her choosing.

The will did not mention his second wife, the former Mary Cushing, now Mrs. James W. Fosburgh. The first two marriages ended in divorce.

West Plans Talks on Germany

LONDON — (UPI) — The West will send to Moscow in a week to 10 days an offer for an East-West foreign ministers' conference on Germany this spring, informed diplomatic sources said Friday.

The sources said British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who will travel to Moscow Feb. 21 for a state visit, will sound out the Soviets on the possibility of a follow-up conference at the summit level next summer.

The possibilities of major conferences on Germany and the Berlin crisis emerged as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles firmed up Western determination on Berlin in his current series of conferences in Western capitals.

Dulles and De Gaulle agreed that Western rights in Berlin must be maintained "by all available means."

The two statesmen were less than eye-to-eye, however, on De Gaulle's demands for an equal role with the U.S. and Britain in coordinating Western policies outside the Atlantic area.

This was the consensus of American and French sources after the two talked for an hour and a half.

They said Dulles and De Gaulle are acutely aware that the West must be ready with a plan of action should the Russians suddenly decide to turn over the Soviet Zone of Berlin to the Communist East German regime before the May 27 date they announced for the move.

As Dulles prepared to fly to Bonn to discuss the problem with West German officials today, a committee of diplomats in Washington was working on the terms of a note to be sent to Moscow around Feb. 15.

The note will propose a foreign ministers' meeting, but will omit time and place. This would have to be worked out with the Russians. The West was known to favor Geneva during the last week in April.

This note will be a reply to the Soviet notes of Jan. 10 urging a 30-nation conference on a German peace treaty.

Couple Admits Shoplift Guilt

A Miami Shores couple pleaded guilty to shoplifting charges in Fort Lauderdale Friday and were released on bond pending pre-sentence investigation.

Claude R. Hughes, 55, and his wife, Ruby, 44, of 551 NE 93rd St., admitted petty larceny. Hughes also pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property. Further charges against his wife were dropped.

Policeman's Jail Term Is Delayed

A Negro patrolman was sentenced to 24 hours in jail for lying Friday, and then granted a stay of execution until the police department could make its own investigation.

Edmund McKinney was sentenced by City Judge Albert S. Dubbin as a result of McKinney's testimony in a court case.

McKinney denied saying he "would get" the defendant, school teacher, Jerona Jamison "because she was nasty" when he arrested her on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Miss Jamison's attorney, David Phillips, told Judge Dubbin he had overheard McKinney's remark to deputy city clerk Ross Hunter. McKinney told the court Phillips was "a liar."

Hunter, called to the stand by the judge, testified McKinney made the remark after learning Miss Jamison's drunkometer reading was a borderline 1.50. Judge Dubbin pronounced sentence on McKinney and then granted the police department's request for a stay of execution.

Devices At Fault In Crash?

CHICAGO — (UPI) — The flight engineer of the doomed American Airlines plane which crashed in New York's East River said Friday the plane's crew had no hint of impending disaster.

Warren Cook's story of what happened in the cockpit of the turboprop airliner as it approached LaGuardia Field Tuesday night was revealed in a copyrighted Chicago Tribune story and by The Chicago Daily News.

As the plane made its approach, Cook said, the pilot, Capt. Albert DeWitt, "told me to maintain 140 knots air speed and that's what I was doing.

"So far as anyone of us knew, this was a perfectly routine approach. We expected to break out of a cloud and see the runway lights ahead.

"The pilots were using the instrument landing system and were dead on. The next thing I knew we were in the water.

"The only thing I can suggest is that they might have had a mixup with those new altimeters. They are a new type and there was some difficulty reading them."

GI Fined for Burning Japanese Flag

By Herald Wire Services

YOKOHAMA — A U.S. Army court-martial fined a Minnesota soldier $70 and ordered him confined to his company area for 30 days for burning a Japanese flag.

Specialist Cedric F. Nelson, 21, of Alexandria, Minn., who pleaded guilty, was also reduced to the rank of private. An additional sentence of 15 days confinement at hard labor was suspended.

He was tried on charges of being drunk and disorderly in a public place and with conduct bringing discredit on the U.S. armed forces.

Nelson set fire to the Japanese flag Jan. 16 on a crowded train en route from Yokohama to Tokyo. He was turned over to the Army by the Yokohama prosecutor, who refused to try him for violation of Japan's minor offense law. The maximum he could have received on the Japanese charge was a fine of $2.77.

West Germany To Order Jets

BONN — The American Starfighter jet will be the standard fighting plane of the new West German Air Force, Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss announced Friday.

Strauss said he will sign a final contract next week to purchase 96 Starfighters from Lockheed, and to build another 200 such planes in West Germany on license.

The Starfighter program, Strauss added, should be completed by 1965. The first squadrons will be ready for action sometime in 1962, he said.

Bonn Readies Race Slur Bill

BONN — A bill authorizing stiff penalties for verbal attacks on anyone's race or religion has cleared its first legislative hurdle in West Germany's Parliament.

The upper house, or Bundesrat, gave unanimous approval to the measure. It now must pass the lower house, or Bundestag, and be reapproved by the Bundesrat.

The bill directed particularly against expressions of anti-Semitism, but floor leaders said it would be equally applicable to persons inciting hatred against any religious, racial or national group.

Girl Predicts Death—and Dies

The girl, 10-year-old Madeline, was a talented poet. Some of her poems, which she started writing when she was six, were broadcast by the BBC.

Madeline usually wrote poems about the sea, the countryside and fairies. An early sample:

"At night when I got to bed, fairies flutter round by head

"In the morning when I wake up, I might find the fairies cup.

"To me it seemed that I had dreamed."

But the Jennings, who adopted Madeline as a baby, said her mood changed three weeks ago. She shocked them by writing and talking about her death — although she seemed healthy and normal at the time.

Thursday she walked into her parents' bedroom and said calmly: "Mummy, I can't get my breath back. I think I am going to die."

She died an hour later.

Jose Greco Troupe in Fine Fettle

By DORIS RENO
Herald Music Editor

A Dance Review

Jose Greco and his company of Spanish dancers were in fine fettle in Dade County auditorium Friday night, and stamped out their fiery flamenco to the joy of all their fans, Spanish and otherwise.

The troupe's material was in the same format as in other years, but there were new faces among the dancers and new dances on the program.

Greco, who plans the programs and trains the dancers, has an eye to good theater, and everything he presents fits into this category. The show moves. And when he plans an effect, it materializes.

Sleek, suave, steely dancer that he is, and inevitably center of the stage because of his whiplash movement and sheer handsomeness, Greco never arranges things so that his fellow troupe-members serve merely as a foil for himself.

He surrounds himself with superb dancers all along the line — the company this year, it seems to us, is full of more top male dancers than ever before — and Greco plans that each shall have opportunity to display his individual talents.

The feminine dancers are all young and pretty and talented too, and zippy as all get-out, and when they all get to work on a production like the "Rincon Flamenco" which closes the program, it is definitely something to watch and remember.

There seems to be somewhat less peasant and true folk material this season than was included on past programs, and perhaps a little more of the slicked-up, highly sophisticated dancing that goes to a night club audience's heart.

There is a nice percentage of Spanish ballet dancing, however — and Miami audiences were surprised to find in the troupe a former Danish ballet dancer, Paul Haakon, who proved to be completely at home in the Spanish medium and added a balletic flavor of his own to his roles.

Haakon was excellent as the Mayor in the Falla ballet, "Three Cornered Hat," which was so good we were sorry to get it in so condensed a form. Greco was the Miller in this, and his partner Lola la Ronda was the Miller's Wife.

Several of the old favorites turned up again, which made everybody happy — particularly the dear little peasant dance for two maids and a man, and the "El Cortijo," or Horseman's Dance, for Greco and three other male dancers.

Paco Fernandez was outstanding in his "Zapateado," and Miss La Ronda was excitingly sensuous in her solo "Cordoba." She and Greco also repeated the seductive "Seguirya" from previous programs.

The house, three-thirds filled, was unusually receptive. There are still some seats left for tonight's program, in Dade County auditorium, which will be similar to the one danced Friday.

10th Rodeo Will Be 'The Best'

Homestead's 10th annual rodeo will outdo all previous ones, said Chairman Dr. John Mille Friday.

He said the rodeo, which will begin with a parade at 1 p.m. today in Homestead, will feature 140 cowboys competing for more than $1,000 in prizes. The rodeo will begin at 3:30 p.m. today and at 2:30 p.m. Sunday on the rodeo grounds at NE Eighth Street near U.S. Highway 1.

The well-known Everglades Posse, invited to take part in the Cheyenne Rodeo, will be part of the show.

Holzapfel Is Freed in Check Case

Floyd A. Holzapfel, former security police chief at a Miami Beach hotel, has again been set free from felony charges filed in Palm Beach County.

Holzapfel had been accused of forging a $4,275 check. The charge was dismissed at a preliminary hearing before Peace Justice Robert H. Eaves.

Eaves indicated that lack of "probable cause" forced him to dismiss the case. But he warned Holzapfel that the case could be revived if evidence warrants it.

In April of 1957 Holzapfel was found not guilty on a charge of conspiring to murder Attorney Hal Gray for a $100,000 insurance payment.

He was once questioned in the November, 1957 "Canal Murder Case," which involved the slaying of Lew Gene Harvey.

Accused of Concealing Waste and Extravagance

Navy Refuses to Give Data to U.S. Auditors

By DAVID KRASLOW
Herald Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — The Navy is suppressing information requested by government auditors, it was disclosed Friday.

Rep. William Dawson (D., Ill.), chairman of the House Government Operations Committee, ordered an investigation and wrote Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, head of the General Accounting Office:

"I am sure everything possible will be done to overcome the repeated arrogance of federal executive officials whose denials of information to the GAO flout the clear law of the land."

The GAO has sweeping authority under the budget and accounting act to audit all federal spending and "the right to examine any . . . records of any . . . department . . .

Dawson made public a letter in which Campbell said the "Navy has now refused us access to numerous documents on the basis that their release would be contrary to the public interest."

He accused the Navy of "screening, editing and censoring information" and said:

"These actions provide a means by which the (Navy) could conceal substantive evidence of waste and extravagance, improvident management, poor procurement practices, or other adverse conditions."

Campbell dealt mainly in his letter with the Navy's refusal to give him a report made in October, 1957, on the Military Sea Transportation Service.

Campbell said the practical effect of the Navy's policy "is to thwart the will of Congress by a systematic withholding of information which is expressly required by law to be furnished."

He said "every public official unless specifically exempt by law, is subject to a requirement to give a complete and full account of his stewardship of his public office."

Campbell recalled the remark of a congressman in 1951. "Those with nothing to hide have nothing to fear by opening their books to the GAO."

National security is not a factor since the MSTS report is unclassified.

Even if it were classified it wouldn't make any difference. The GAO is cleared to handle top-secret materials.

The Navy refused GAO access to the report on the ground that it was an "internal review."

The Navy said it would not be able to obtain frank opinions and criticism from its own personnel if they knew such statements were to be released outside the Navy.

Campbell said he first requested the report last Sept. 9. The Navy sent him part of the report which the Navy said contained all the facts but did not include "recommendations, opinions and conclusions."

Campbell said the information sent him could have been obtained from the MSTS handbook and manual.

He complained to the Navy. On Nov. 22, the Navy "furnished a second version of the report, containing about 100 pages more than originally submitted, and again assured us that we now had all the facts."

A comparison of the two incomplete versions showed that the Navy had made an "incorrect representation" in submitting the first version, Campbell said.

He said entire pages, whole paragraphs, sentences and even parts of sentences have been deleted from the second version.

"We . . . have no way of determining what material has been deleted," Campbell said.

Campbell recalled that the Air Force last fall refused the GAO access to an inspector general's report on management of the ballistic missiles program, also on the ground that it would not be in the public interest.

President Eisenhower backed the Air Force's stand.

Dawson said the investigation will be made by the government information subcommittee headed by Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.).

TB Seal Total Now $149,149

Recent contributions to the annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale brought the 1958 total to $149,149 this week. The goal is $155,000.

Maurice Long, president of the Dade County Tuberculosis Association reported that $3,631 in follow-up contributions have been received from the campaign which began last Nov. 14.

Armenian Prelate, Shepherd Top List of Speakers

The head of the Armenian church in North America and a Galilean shepherd head the list of guest speakers who will be in Miami area pulpits this weekend.

Your Church Pages
Edited by ADON TAFT

The Most Rev. Mampre Archbishop Kalfayar, Armenian prelate of North America from New York, will conduct the Sunday morning Mass for the Armenian National Apostolic Church, 1501 NE First Ave. The occasion will be the 1,000th anniversary of Armenia's national, religious war.

★ ★ ★

Stephen A. Haboush, a Gallilean shepherd who will appear in native dress when he speaks, will be guest at the 7:30 p.m. Sunday service at the Hialeah First Methodist Church.

Although he now is an American citizen, Haboush still is patriarchal head of his tribe and returns to his former homeland every four years.

The Rev. Bascom Carlton, superintendent of the Florida Methodist children's home at Enterprise, will preach at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Coral Gables First Methodist Church.

He will show pictures of the work at the home, which he has headed for seven years, as part of the church's month-long "Adventures in Missions" program.

★ ★ ★

James Watt, a former engineer who served as a World War II chaplain and now lives in Washington, D.C., will be the speaker for the public lecture at 8 p.m. Friday at the Coral Gables First Church of Christ, Scientist.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Esther Alleman will discuss "Evolution through Changing Perspectives" at the 8 p.m. Sunday meeting of the Theosophical Society.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Romette Davison will review the book "Human Destiny" for the 7:45 p.m. Sunday meeting at the Baha'i Center.

Chaplain To Lead Revival

An Air Force chaplain and a cowboy will be among the evangelists who will conduct revival campaigns in Greater Miami churches next week.

DANIELSON

A veteran of both the European and Pacific theaters of war, Maj. Danielson also has held pastorates in three states. He will be preaching at 9:45 and 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday and then at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. On Monday night he will hold a service at the Covenant Palms Chapel.

The cowboy is Dr. Bill Rice, who will lead the 11-day revival beginning Wednesday at Bird Road Baptist Church. He grew up on a Texas ranch and now has a ranch in Tennessee.

An author and pilot as well as a preacher, he carried two six guns, two Bibles and two cameras with him on a successful missionary journey among the pygmies of Africa. He became a close friend of King Abdullah — the "Bearded Lion of Judah" — on another missionary journey.

Dr. Rice is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute.

The Rev. John M. Fletcher, of Jacksonville's Riverview Methodist Church, will be the speaker for the "Week of Dedication" beginning with the 11 a.m. Sunday service at St. Paul's Methodist Church. Evening services will be at 7:30.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Gary W. Buhl, of Carol City Methodist Church, will conduct a five-day preaching mission at Holy Trinity Methodist Church in Homestead beginning Monday at 7:45 p.m. He is a graduate of Asbury College and Emory University.

Antonio Segni
... he agrees

Italy Crisis Handed to Ex-Premier

ROME — (UPI) — Former Premier Antonio Segni agreed Friday night to try to form a new government for Italy.

The middle-of-the-road Christian Democrat, who is 68, accepted the nomination of premier-designate from President Giovanni Gronchi, who asked him to lead Italy out of a political crisis now 12 days old.

The silver-haired gentleman farmer is expected to try to form a center or center-right government to replace the center-left coalition of Amintore Fanfani, who resigned Jan. 27.

A few days after he quit, Fanfani also gave up his post as secretary of the Christian Democratic Party and withdrew to private life. Even when Gronchi refused to accept his resignation Fanfani would not try again with his old government.

It is now up to Segni, a Sardinian, to force a new government, apportion ministries, and face parliament for a confidence test.

Plans Unit Posts Filled

Metro's powerful Planning Advisory Board reached full strength. Truckline owner James A. Ryder and architect Edwin Reeder are the 10th and 11th nominees to accept appointment.

Reeder, who designed the county's new courts building and jailhouse, at first declined. He said the dual position of planning advisor and county contractee was "fraught with all sorts of difficulties."

But Commissioner Edwin Mason, who nominated Reeder, called for and received from the board a vote of confidence "in Reeder's ability to do an excellent job for the county."

Music To Tell Of Alaska

A music program describing Alaska and the missionary needs and accomplishments there will be presented at the Boca Raton Bible Conference Grounds at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Featured soloist for the program will be Fague Springman, professor of music at the University of Maryland who has been soloist for the last two presidential inaugurations, has been with the Philadelphia Opera Co., and has sung at Radio City Music Hall and on the Telephone Hour.

Speakers will include Harold Wildish, a missionary to the West Indies and South America, and C. Ernest Tatham, co-founder of the Emmaus Bible School of Toronto, Canada.

Seminole Rites For Dead

By MIKE MORGAN
Herald Staff Writer

For many years he held a white man's job — truck driver in Miami. In fact he lived here.

But Friday, in a wild and lonely bit of swampland, deep in the Everglades, he went to "Ghost Town" in the ancient Seminole manner.

His body, swathed in ritual wrappings, was laid to rest on open ground.

A small group of kinsman chanted the age-old Seminole laments for the dead. A great, blackened iron pot on the ground was filled with fire, to keep evil spirits away.

There was a weight of majesty in the words as a kinsman of Chestnut, Tom Buster, haltingly described some of the burial rites which no white man is permitted to see.

OFFBEAT with Mike Morgan MIAMI

Just a few moments before the ambulance from Reed-Gautier Funeral Home had arrived from Miami with the body, in a plain, pine casket. The second victim of the Thursday crash, Duke Billy, will be buried in Miami.

But the only need for the casket was to transport the body the 48 miles from Miami to the spot on the Tamiami Trail where the Seminoles waited.

Off the shoulder of the road stood a high bodied, swamp buggy. This would be used to carry the body, and handful of mourners, through the swamp, and tangle of saw grass to the Indian burial ground.

The Seminoles were willing to tell a bit about the rites.

First, once the body is taken into the glades, it is removed from the casket (which is simply abandoned) and wrapped in a traditional manner.

Then certain "medicine" is made — apparently stemming around the pot filled with fire — while the Indians attend to the ceremonies in the quiet of the silent Glades.

Then the smoking pot of fire was set near the body.

Suit Asks Injunction

U.S. Files Civil Rights Action in Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (UPI) — The Justice Department filed suit in Federal Court here Friday charging the Macon County Board of Registrars with violation of Negro voting rights.

The suit sought a permanent injunction against the board to banish alleged discrimination in the registration process.

The Justice Department made it clear the suit had nothing to do with the federal Civil Rights Commission, which recently completed an investigation of alleged violation of Negro voting rights in three central Alabama counties, including Macon.

The suit also tests, for the first time, the use of segregated facilities in the registration process.

Negroes outnumber whites 7-1 in Macon County, home of famed Tuskegee Institute and located in the heart of the cotton-growing black belt which stretches across the center of the state.

The 1957 Legislature attempted to abolish the county in an effort to maintain white supremacy but failed when counties surrounding the Negro-dominated territory could not agree on how to absorb it.

Defendants in the suit are resigned Registrars Grady Rogers and E. P. Livingston. Both men refused to testify before the Civil Rights Commission hearing here Dec. 8-9.

The department said the men were named as defendants because, under the law, they are required to serve as registration officials until their successors are appointed.

This is the second voting right suit filed by the department's new civil rights division created last year. The first suit charged Terrell County, Ga., registrars with refusal to register "fully qualified" Negroes, four of whom were school teachers. Trial is pending at Columbus, Ga.

Friday's suit complained that in Macon white voters registered to vote number 3,016 out of about 3,100 or approximately 97 per cent. The suit says only 1,110 Negroes out of approximately 14,000, or eight per cent, are registered.

"The disparity between the respective percentages of white and Negro citizens of voting age," the suit contended, "has been brought about and is being perpetuated by racially-discriminatory acts and practices of the defendants."

The suit charged the registrars utilized "different and more stringent standards" for Negroes than for white applicants.

Gerstein Off To Parley

State Attorney Richard Gerstein and seven of his assistants left Friday for Tampa and a two-day conference called by Attorney General Richard Ervin to draft legislation for the forthcoming session.

Gerstein, a director of the National Association of Prosecuting Attorneys, said he will urge the group to "have more frequent meetings than we do now, which is once every two years."

The state attorney said he and the national organization feel that "criminal laws can be strengthened through legislation only when we have a more frequent interchange of ideas and objectives."

He Calls, Then Suicide

DALLAS — (AP) — Henry Scates, 42, telephoned his wife and said, "Honey, when you hear this shot go off, that will be all of it."

Mrs. Scates heard a shot over the phone, then silence on the other end.

When police reached the Scates home, they found him dead of a head wound, slumped in a chair with a rifle beside him.

Mrs. Scates was at work in a downtown jewelry store.

Justice W. E. Richburg, who ruled suicide, said Scates apparently was despondent over loss of his job during layoffs last year at a nearby aircraft plant. He was a technical writer.

Remarks on Religion

It's Daily Life That Counts

By ADON TAFT
Herald Religion Editor

More and more we are hearing about how important it is for the average layman and laywoman to live their Christian faith in their daily lives.

The lesson was brought home again this week by the outstanding Christian statesmen who were the speakers for our annual Florida Chain of Missionary Assemblies.

Every speaker emphasized how one un-Christian act or word, in such fields as race relations, which is committed or spoken here at home or by American tourists around the world can offset years of missionary effort when the incident is distorted by Communist news media.

* * *

His Influence Lives

One life that meant much for the cause of Christ here as well as across the nation was snuffed out this week in the tragic plane crash in New York.

Bill Meadows, the handsome, talented and dedicated director of the Methodist radio and television commission, was one of those killed, along with three other Methodist ministers and a Lutheran pastor.

Bill will long be remembered here for the bang up job he did in the radio and television clinic he conducted for the Greater Miami Council of Churches. And the results of his efforts will continue to make an impact for the Lord for years to come.

* * *

Their Lives Telling

The lives of some of our local people are telling for Christ, too. Maggi Brothers and Tommy Glass have been chosen the most outstanding Protestant girl and boy at Edison Senior High. That speaks well for their testimony.

And the fact that they both come from First Christian Church speaks well for Mrs Betty Steiden, the youth director there, and other leaders of that church, as well as for their parents.

* * *

Bible Thought

Perhaps as a parting thought we ought to remind ourselves of Christ's admonition to:

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matt. 5:16.

Cardinal Spellman Gets Decoration From Jordan

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

NEW YORK — The Arab kingdom of Jordan further strengthened its ties with the U.S. here when a high royal decoration was bestowed on Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Jordan, the Most Rev. Michael Assaf, presented the decoration of Al Kawkab, the Star, to Cardinal Spellman here on behalf of Jordan King Hussein.

In an interview, Archbishop Assaf said the king honored the cardinal in recognition of the relief work he directs for Palestine Arab refugees on behalf of the Vatican.

King Hussein, a Moslem, inspected church schools under Archbishop Assaf's control last month. "Our students and teachers include all the Christian communities and also Moslems," the churchman said.

For First Time Seaside Episodes Depicted in Glass
... in Ford Chapel of Bal Harbour's Church-by-the Sea

Christ's Life by Sea of Galilee Seen In Windows To Be Dedicated Sunday

A unique series of stained glass windows called "Christ on the Sea of Galilee" will be dedicated at the Ford Chapel of the Church-by-the-Sea during the 11 a.m. Sunday service.

So far as is known, this is the only instance where the scenes of Jesus by the seaside have been depicted in glass, according to the pastor, Dr. John Lawrence Yenches.

Jesus calling Peter and Andrew to become fishers of men, represented by a fish net, crossed keys, anchor and St. Andrew's cross and based on the Bible passage, Matt. 4:18-22.

Jesus stilling the tempest, as described in Mark 1:17-20.

Jesus healing the demoniac and allowing the unclean spirits to enter the herd of swine which ran violently into the sea, as recorded in Luke 8:26-33.

Jesus walking on the sea and stretching out his hand to Peter who feared and began to sink, as told in Matt. 14:25-31.

And, finally, the miraculous draft of fish raised by the disciples at the direction of Jesus, as recorded in John 21:4-8.

Following the service of dedication, members of the congregation will be invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson L. Ford, donors of the windows, at a coffee in the parish hall. Deacons and deaconesses will conduct interested persons through the chapel.

Rev. Alls To Be Installed

REV. ALLS

One new pastor will be installed Sunday, another will be preaching his first sermon and a third has accepted a call to a Miami church.

The Rev. Ivan P. Alls, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., will be installed as pastor of the Bethany Church of God at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Thomas E. Sexton, of West Palm Beach will deliver the sermon. The charge to the minister will be given by the Rev. P. E. Barber, Fort Lauderdale, and the Rev. Homer Sauls, of Homestead, will deliver the charge to the church. The Rev. Gordon W. Holmen, of the Bethany Covenant Church, will welcome the new minister to the city.

Evangelist Robert Atkinson will preach his first sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday as the new minister at the Seventh Avenue Church of Christ. He comes here from Hattisburg, Miss. He is a graduate of Freed Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn.

The Rev. James Bouman, of Jacksonville, has accepted the call to become the pastor of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church in North Miami Beach. He will come here in two weeks.

Negro Choir To Sing

The Bethune-Cookman College concert choir will sing in six Miami area churches next week.

The 30-voice choir—10 of the members, including baritone soloist King Rankin, are from Miami—will appear at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Ebenezer Methodist Church, and at 8 p.m. at the White Temple Methodist Church.

Other concerts will be at the Homestead Methodist Church Monday; the Wesley Foundation at the University of Miami Tuesday; at Rader Memorial Methodist Church Wednesday; and Bryan Memorial Methodist Church Friday.

Bible Institute Gets New Dean

The Miami Bible Institute will have a new dean when registration for the second semester of its evening school begins next Tuesday.

He is the Rev. William H. Walker, who for the past eight years has been general secretary of the Central American Mission. He succeeds the Rev. Harvey A. Moon, dean of the institute for five years, who will step into a teaching role this semester.

WALKER

A native of Texas, the Rev. Mr. Walker attended Miami High, where he was president of the student council, before studying at Wheaton College and then at Dallas Theological Seminary.

For seven years he was a missionary in El Salvador and Guatemala. He taught in a Bible school in Guatemala.

The Rev. Mr. Walker will teach a course in missions as well as serve as dean and will stress preparation for mission work as a policy of the institute.

"The doors are open for missions in Latin America today," he said, "but we need recruits for that area whose population is growing 2½ times as fast as that in the United States."

Another course being added for the second semester is one on radio and television technique and programing. It will be taught by the Rev. Harvey John Fritsch, pastor of the Community Christian Church and director of a local Council of Churches television program.

Courses to be offered in the 7:25 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday classes will be Collossians and Philippians, taught by Alec C. Sutherland; personal evangelism, survey on New Testament books from James to Revelation, and doctrine, taught by Moon and Dr. Willis E. Garrett; Galations and youth work, taught by the Rev. Livingston Blauvelt; prayer and prophetic books of the Old Testament, taught by the Rev Jack Tretten; and Biblical instrodution, taught by Dr. Sydney E. Cox.

Baptists To Rally Monday

A dedication rally to prepare church members for this month's Gold Coast evangelistic crusade will be held by the Miami Baptist Association at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Central Baptist Church.

Speaker for the event will be Dr. Leo Eddleman, newly installed president of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. He has been president of Georgetown (Ky.) College, a pastor in Louisville, a missionary to Palestine and a professor of Old Testament in two seminaries.

A 500-voice choir, made up of singers from all the Baptist churches in the area, will sing "New Life for You," a song written especially for the crusade. Ward Weaver, minister of music at University Baptist Church, will direct.

The evangelistic crusade will take place Feb. 15-22.

Prayer Day Set Friday

The 73rd annual World Day of Prayer will be marked Friday by the United Church Women of Greater Miami who will observe the day with Christians in 144 countries on six continents who will be praying in 60 languages and a thousand dialects.

Theme for this year is "Lord, I Believe," chosen by Christian women from Egypt who literally met under gunfire to write the 1959 worship service which will be used by all those participating.

Observances in Miami have been planned for 20 areas under the direction of Mrs. Clifford Titus and Mrs. Frank Bennett. They will be at:

Opa-locka Methodist Church, 10 a.m.; Rader Memorial Methodist, 11 a.m.; St. Luke Lutheran, 7:30 p.m.; Miami Springs Methodist, 7:45 p.m.; Palm Springs Presbyterian, 8 p.m.; Holy Cross Episcopal, 1 p.m.

Self-Denial, Penitence Give Real Meaning to Lent

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

It is easy to say who observes Lent, and when, and how. The question that causes confusion, even in churches that place great emphasis on Lent, is why.

To take up the easy ones first, Lent is observed by all liturgical churches, including the Roman Catholic, Lutheran, Episcopal and Eastern Orthodox communions.

These churches follow an ancient calendar of worship which divides the year into six great seasons — Advent, Christmas, Epiphany, Lent, Easter and Trinity. The idea is that this calendar provides an annual rhythm for worship, so that each major aspect of the Christian faith has its own appointed season for special emphasis.

Many Protestant bodies which formerly ignored the liturgical calendar have begun in recent years to see values in it. One result of this so-called liturgical revival is that Lent is now being observed in a number of Presbyterian, Methodist and other Protestant churches.

The date of Lent varies from year to year, because it is tied to the date of Easter. Specifically, Lent is a period of 40 weekdays and six Sundays preceding Easter.

The Eastern Orthodox churches reckon the date of Easter by a different method.

Roman Catholics are enjoined to fast on all weekdays during Lent by foregoing meat at two of the three meals.

Episcopal and Lutheran churches leave it up to the individual's conscience to determine how he will observe Lent. But both encourage systematic act of self-denial.

In addition to fasting, Lent is observed with "extraordinary acts of devotion." For Catholics this may mean more frequent attendance at Mass. For Protestants, it is likely to mean Wednesday night worship services, prayer groups, and devotional reading.

What is the purpose of Lent? In all of the Lenten literature that has been written by Catholic and Protestant scholars, two themes stand out:

1. Lent is an annual reminder to Christians that Jesus did not promise his followers ease, comfort or success in this life. On the contrary, he said that "if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

2. As a "penitential season," Lent stresses the Christian teaching that all men are sinners and in need of God's mercy.

This doctrine is almost as uncongenial to the modern mind as the ideal of self-denial. But the liturgical churches believe that no man can really comprehend the joy of Easter, with its message of redemption, until he has faced the fact of his own sinfulness.

Drama Highlight Of Week

Observances of Boy Scout Sunday, a performance of "Christ in the Concrete City," and mission studies will highlight activities in area churches in the coming week.

Cub Pack 384 and Scout Troop 39 will be guests of honor at the 10:55 a.m. Sunday service at North Dade First Christian Church where the trailer built by the boys and a complete camp of tents will be on display.

The drama department of the Greater Miami Council of Churches will present "Christ in the Concrete City" at that church for the 7:30 p.m. service. The Rev. Neil Wyrick, of Palmetto Presbyterian Church, will direct.

★ ★ ★

Cubs, Scouts and Explorers of the Opa-locka area will be guests for the 11 a.m. Sunday service at Opa-locka Methodist Church which will be dedicated to them and their parents.

★ ★ ★

A mission study book on Alaska will be reviewed at the 7 p.m. Sunday service at Carol City Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

The "Adventure in Missions" at Wesley Methodist Church in Coral Gables will continue at 7:45 p.m. Sunday with a study of "Our Chapel in the Philippines," led by Col. Gilbert Hatfield who served in that area.

A panel discussion on Alaska and Hawaii will conclude the "adventure" at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

A second presentation of the duologue in Paradise — "Jesus Meets Paul" — will be given at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday at the First Unitarian Church by Dr. Charles W. Philhour and James C. Lee.

★ ★ ★

A movie called "Far from Alone," telling the story of an outstanding athlete who strengthened his influence by standing true to his convictions, will be shown at Riverside Baptist Church at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Songfest Set

The Dade County Singing Convention will meet at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Northside Baptist Church, 2378 NW 99th ST.

Corpus Christi Catholic Parish's New Church Building
. . . dedication Sunday to be first by Bishop Carroll in new diocese

Dedication Rites Planned Sunday

The new church at Corpus Christi Catholic Parish and the new education building and organ at Miami Shores Presbyterian Church will be dedicated in Sunday ceremonies.

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll will perform his first dedication ceremony in the new Miami Diocese for the modern, 1,200-seat church at Corpus Christi Parish.

The rite for the CBS structure with a facade of long panels of glass will take place at 10 a.m. The air conditioned building has large, narrow windows in serrated walls flanking the nave and transcept, has four glass-enclosed "cry rooms" for mothers with babies, and has a choir loft seating 120.

Following the dedication, Bishop Carroll will celebrate a Solemn Pontifical Mass.

Two dedication ceremonies will be a part of both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services at the Miami Shores Presbyterian Church.

The first dedication will be of a new Conn organ given by Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Matzinger in memory of his parents. Dean Ryan, who just completed studies in Rome under a Fulbright scholarship, will be guest organist for the occasion.

The second dedication will be of the $400,000 educational and fellowship buildings. The two-story structures contain 22 expertly furnished Sunday school rooms, a combination dining and fellowship hall seating 270 at dinners and 350 as an assembly hall, a stage and a kitchen. There also are choir robing and rehearsal rooms, seven offices, a counseling room, work and storage rooms.

Crane Winds Up

Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, pastor emeritus of Central Methodist Church in Detroit, will end a week of revival meetings at Coral Way Methodist Church with the 9:45 and 11 a.m. services.

Leadership Clinic Slated Monday

A leadership institute for new officers, denominational representatives, minister's wives, local church representatives and presidents of church women's societies will be conducted by the United Church Women of Greater Miami at 7 p.m. Monday at Wesley Methodist Church.

Speaker for the occasion will be Mrs. Alfred Lexow, state president of the UCW. She will report on the triennial assembly in Denver and outline the year's program.

Mrs. Parks C. Hunter is the newly elected president who is planning the clinic along with Mrs. Donald D. Richardson, leadership education chairman.

Churches To Mark Birthdays

A pair of churches—Hope Lutheran and Miami Beach First Presbyterian—will mark anniversaries Sunday.

At the Hope Lutheran Church in South Miami, the congregation will celebrate its 10th birthday Sunday with the first pastor, the Rev. Evan J. Bartell, flying down from Niagra Falls, N.Y., to deliver the 8:30 and 11 a.m. sermons.

He and his wife will be honored at an anniversary banquet at 5 p.m. in the South Miami Junior High cafetorium.

The anniversary ceremonies are being arranged by the present pastor, the Rev. Clarence Stadtlander, and Charles Nafzuge.

Sunday will be the first anniversary of the Miami Beach First Presbyterian Church which meets in the Miami Beach Women's Club. The congregation has grown from eight to 30 members and attendance runs two and three times the membership.

Miss Amy Dey will be the soloist for the spcial program to be presented at 11 a.m. Aaron Wolfe will be pianist.

The Rev. Daniel Iverson will give an anniversary talk which will deal with the future of the church.

Kid Stuff To Be Demonstrated

The kinds of songs, games and other "readiness" material to use for pre-schoolers will be demonstrated at the quarterly meeting of the Miami Baptist Kindergarten Association at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Miami Springs Baptist Church.

Presbyterians Raise Funds To Aid Integrated Churches

By JOHN WICKLEIN
The New York Times News Service

NEW YORK—A second major denomination announced Friday the appropriation of funds to aid city churches that may suffer financially if parishioners withdraw over racial integration.

The United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., through its board of national missions, voted an initial sum of $30,000 for such aid.

The amount was approved as part of a program to increase church work in urban renewal to the level of $1,000,000 a year over the next few years. The board now spends $800,000 a year to aid decaying neighborhoods.

On Jan. 4 the Congregational Christian Churches announced that the denomination stood ready to give money to any church hurt by integration. No specific requests have been received thus far, a spokesman for the congregational board of home missions said Friday.

In addition to aiding integration, the Presbyterians are planning pilot projects in urban church renewal and special training for clergymen in such work. The concern for urban parishes was prompted by the fact that 349 of the denomination's congregations located in the midst of population densities lost 14,883 members between 1940 and 1957.

The board has selected 12 churches in 10 cities, in depressed areas and areas of low-rent housing, as pilot projects to make them socially more useful to their neighborhoods.

"Without the kind of relationships that are established by healthy parishes," the board said, "new housing projects can become expensive containers for continued social disintegration."

The churches are in Baltimore, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Boston, San Francisco, Milwaukee and Kansas City.

Southerland Rites Friday

Dr. James E. Southerland will be inaugurated president of the Baptist Bible Institute in Graceville next Friday.

Dedication of the Robert G. Lee Chapel will take place on the same day. Dr. Lee, whose church in Memphis, Tenn., gave $50,000 for the project, will officiate.

Driver Education Law in the Cards

JACKSONVILLE — State Sen. Joe Eaton of Miami said Friday that the powerful Committee on Highway Safety will recommend a complete driver education program in all Florida high schools when the Legislature opens in April.

EATON

The announcement followed the fifth and last of a series of public hearings by the committee over the state.

The driver education program plan calls for 18 as the minimum age for obtaining a driver's license unless the applicant has successfully completed a driver education course.

A 50 cent increase in drivers license fees will be asked to pay the cost of the education program.

Police Probing Woman's Death

ST. PETERSBURG — Police said Friday that a note indicated the fatal shooting of a retired garage and apartment owner was a suicide, but ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death of his wife.

News About Florida

Alfred F. Stanton, 46, was discovered dying on the kitchen floor of his home, a bullet wound in his head. His wife, Lucille, 42, was found ill and incoherent in the living room and died four hours later without revealing what happened. Police said a note in the pocket of her dress said: "Lucille is in no way responsible for my killing myself," signed by Stanton.

Florida Bar's Control Defined

TALLAHASSEE—The State Supreme Court Friday gave the board of governors of the Florida Bar rigid control over lawyer referral services.

The Court ruled that no bar association or group of attorneys can form a lawyer referral service without first receiving approval of the board of governors.

'Crown Prince' Goes to Prison

TAMPA — A Negro farmer who posed as an African crown prince in several states was sentenced to a year and a day in a federal penitentiary Friday for interstate transportation of a stolen check.

Edward Lee Woods, 26, of MacClenney, admitted the check charge and smiled broadly when Federal Judge William J. Barker passed sentence. Woods, who said he "got tired looking at the backs of horses" on farms, posed as Crown Prince Mkabouri Kawama Mboyta of Ubangi-Sher, Portugese East Africa, in stops at several cities. He was arrested at Fort Myers.

Education Unit Holds Meeting

OCALA — The Legislature's interim committee on education met here Friday in what Sen. L. K. Edwards Jr. of Irvine described as an "informal workshop session."

The committee chairman said the meeting was being devoted to an evaluation of testimony taken at previous sessions so the group could prepare its report to the 1959 Legislature.

Charles Brack Services Monday

Charles S. Brack, 48, credit manager of The Miami News for the last five years, died Friday. He lived at 3775 SW 28th St., and came to Miami 14 years ago from Hartford, Conn.

He is survived by his wife, Esther, of Miami; four sons, Charles Jr., Robert and Kenneth of Miami, and Richard, stationed in South Carolina with the Army; a daughter, Suzanne, of Miami; his mother, a sister and two brothers.

Khrushchev View of Humphrey: a Fancy Liar

MOSCOW—(AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev says he considers his recent Moscow guest, U.S. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, a peddler of fairy tales. He called Humphrey a fabricator.

Khrushchev, speaking to the 21st Soviet Communist Party Congress said the Yugoslav Communist Party, accused of deviating from the Moscow line, was trying to drum up stories about differences between Red China and the Kremlin. He said the Yugoslavs, to substantiate these stories, used the Minnesota Democrat as a "substantial witness."

Khrushchev

Humphrey

. . . . was you dere, Charlie?

"You will remember that this senator recently visited the Soviet Union and I had a talk with him," Khrushchev said. "In the expectation of a noisy sensation, Humphrey, in his speeches and articles, told fairy tales—three bags full of them—such as the story that he had brought a special message from the Soviet government to President Eisenhower—of course no such message existed at all—and that I had confided two important secrets to him.

"Indeed, I could find a better partner to share secrets with than Mr. Humphrey!

"Sen. Humphrey's wild imagination ran riot when he began to make up his inventions about the relations between the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic. In this he even exceeded the well known compiler of fabrications, Baron Munchausen.

"And now the Yugoslav revisionists have taken this fabricator unto themselves as a witness. The very idea that I could have been in any way confidential with a man who himself boasts of his 20-year struggle against communism can only serve to raise a laugh.

"Anybody who has the slightest knowledge of politics, not to speak of a knowledge of Marxism-Leninism, will understand how unthinkable a confidential talk with Humphrey would be on questions of the policy of Communist parties, on our relations with our best friends, the leading people in the Communist Party of China."

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

THE SIGN on the desk says "Edna A. Lindblom, assistant vice president." It doesn't tell you she's the oldest employe of First National Bank, in point of service — 43 years, and she's not even thinking about an 'ole rockin' chair.

BELL

Edna's in charge of the collection department. And Monday morning, when they dedicate the beautiful new bank, Edna and her golden shears will cut the official ribbon. And watching her will be Vice President Frank Northrop, a veteran of 'bout 31 years; Boyd Cato, head of the safe deposit department, a 33-year veteran; Harry Retalick, executive vice president who, so Edna says, is "a Johnny-come-lately of about 25 years here." Actually he joined the bank in December, 1930.

All over the bank (the old bank) Friday the cashiers were saying to customer friends, "See you Monday in the new bank." Everybody was busy stuffing papers in folders, getting the books ready for transfer.

The 11,500 safe deposit boxes, which come in sections, are going out a third story window, which was too small and a little "stretching" was necessary. The transfer men were busy all right, and will be busy today, tonight and Sunday. The safe deposit department will be open for business Monday morning—minus the carpet. It can't be laid until the boxes are in place.

Carpet Backing

Speaking of carpets, one such almost caused the only snafu in the meticulous planning of the movers. When they started to move the security lockers they found the carpet had covered a steel slab welded to the bottoms of the lockers which stuck out several inches beyond the lockers. They had to be burned off with torches before the lockers could "exit."

Every one of nearly 700 employes have jobs at the new bank. The new elevators are automatic, so other jobs were found for the elevator operators.

In my book the interior of the new bank is breathless in its beauty of simplicity. Of course workmen still were all over the place Friday and will be busy today, tonight and Sunday.

I was there at noon and got two invitations: one to lunch sitting' on a rock, the other to an integrated crap game. But everybody vowed: "It'll be all finished by Monday morning."

There was only one big unforseen obstacle to construction. In the southeast corner of the property a subterranean sinkhole was encountered. They're surmountable, but it's not easy and takes time.

I think my $17 will be safe.

Rodeo Today

Diamond P Ranch, for the first time is sending outlaw broncos and wild Brahma bulls to the Homestead rodeo, this and Sunday afternoons. Another feature will be the Homestead Everglades Posse, a precision drill team. It has won so much fame that it has been invited to the Cheyenne, Wyo., rodeo in July. That's the biggest in the world.

Block Buster?

Judge Mitchell Goldman is one of the leaders in the police road block program. He went to the sports car show and won a little German car as a door prize.

"I hope you get caught in a road block," I said.

Lincoln on TV

WCKT, Channel 7, has a "Meet Mr. Lincoln" coming up that should appeal to all school children as well as adults. It's scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Feb. 11, the eve of the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's birthday. The script will be almost all in the words of Lincoln and his contemporaries. Even the musical score is based on songs he liked. It's authentic history.

Anniversary

Waiters and bartenders union, 133 are celebrating their Silver anniversary with a big dance Monday night at Bayfront park auditorium. They started with 28 members and not much support. Today they're 1,400 strong.

The big feature will be the annual selection of Waitress Queen for 1959. They're trying to get Circuit Court judges to pick the winners. But that'll not prevent the hassle that follows all beauty contests.

— And Sleeping Judi Awakes to Life

Or: Sleeping Judy Gets Hyp

A Fairy Tale Touch

By TOM LOWNES
Herald Staff Writer

ONCE UPON A TIME, back in the days when fund-raising stunts were in flower, there lived a beautiful golden-haired princess named Sleeping Beauty.

Only she was really Judi Lee, a 21-year-old Miami model. And she was a brunette.

One day — in fact it was yesterday — Judi was supposed to fall asleep in the window of Richards Department Store.

And the crowds were supposed to see her and buy tickets for the Lend-a-Hand premiere of Walt Disney's "Sleeping Beauty" (8:30 p.m. Feb. 10 at the Sheridan Theater in Miami Beach.)

That was the way it was supposed to happen because that was the way the three Good Fairies — Lend-a-Hand, Florida State Theaters and Richards — cooked it up.

And just to make sure that Sleeping Judi really did fall asleep, the three Good Fairies enlisted the aid of The Amazing Dr. Maurice, a Miami hypnotist.

The Amazing Doctor, whose real name is Morris Cohen, planned to put Judi into a five-hour trance (right in the window) and wake her up from time to time to ask her if she wanted to wash her hands.

Dr. Maurice was confident. Judi was confident. The three Good Fairies were confident.

But they hadn't reckoned with the Mean Witch — N. M. Brady, Miami's chief license inspector. He came along just in time to thicken the plot.

Now, Mean Witch Brady wasn't really mean. He was just doing his duty as he saw it. And he just happened to see it a few hours before Lend-a-Hand's Sleeping Beauty stunt.

The license fee: $1,095.

Amazing Dr. Maurice was amazed. He'd been casting spells around Miami for 14 years, "and no one ever bothered me before," he said.

The Good Fairies were even more amazed. After all, the whole thing was for charity.

That was a good thing, the Mean Witch assured them. Otherwise, the license fee would be higher.

The Good Fairies thought and thought and finally conjured up something magic — money. They decided to chip in and buy the license.

But they didn't buy any tickets to the benefit premiere.

Instead, they looked at Judi for a minute and said things like, "Gee, she's hypnotized," or "Boy, what a babe." And then they walked on.

At 2 p.m. it started to rain and the Lend-a-Hand ticket sellers folded their table and silently stole away.

They should have stuck around, because a few minutes later who should show up but Prince Charming — in the person of Herald Staff Writer Greg Taylor.

Quite on his own initiative, Taylor decided he'd like to kiss Sleeping Beauty. And he did.

And do you know what? She woke up.

And everybody lived happily ever after.

Everybody except perhaps, Judi and Taylor — who are both married and will probably have a hard time explaining it all to their spouses and children.

Dade Official Quits After Zone Probe

He Admits Violation Of Rules

Board Employe Bared as Partner

Francis X. Farrey
... resigns post

By C. G. BERNING
Herald Staff Writer

Dade County Zoning Commissioner Francis X. Farrey resigned Friday after an investigation into rezoning of property he owned with another zoning official.

Subpenaed by State Attorney Richard Gerstein, Farrey and R. H. Eastwood, a zoning department supervisor, acknowledged they stood to profit from the rezoning.

Farrey said he had voted in favor of the rezoning without letting other members of the zoning board know he was part owner.

A zoning board member is required by Metro regulations to refrain from voting on any case from which he may benefit.

The regulations say that if a board member does not disclose his personal interests he must forfeit his job.

Gerstein's office pointed out that no criminal offense is involved.

The records show that Eastwood recommended the rezoning, also without mentioning that he owned part of the property.

The land is in the Perrine area of South Dade. The zoning board two months ago rezoned the area from residential to light industrial at the request of surrounding land owners.

Farrey and Eastwood have had one-third interests in the property, along with E. E. Stockwill, executive vice president of the Miami Beach First National Bank.

Farrey, Eastwood and Stockwill bought the property some months ago after application had been made for rezoning by neighboring property owners.

Final county commission approval still has not been taken.

Farrey's resignation was dated Feb. 3 and handed to County Commission Chairman Walter Weiss. A resolution accepting the resignation and thanking Farrey for his four years service has been drawn up for the county commission to consider Tuesday.

Farrey's letter gave as the reason that his wholesale hardware firm would be excluded from selling hardware to the county if he remained a member of the zoning commission.

The state attorney's investigation was sparked by County Attorney Darrey Davis.

Davis was preparing a defense in a suit filed by Harold Monuse, owner of four lots at NW 27th Ave. and 169th Terrace.

Monuse started a $15,000 garage building there after receiving a special zoning variance permit Sept. 5. The permit was revoked by the county commission on Sept. 25.

Monuse sued to get it back but Robert King High, his attorney, withdrew more than a month ago as soon as he heard from Davis that this case, too, was under investigation.

Supervisor Eastwood, employed in the building department for almost 10 years, said there was nothing wrong in any of the transactions.

Gerstein said he has no evidence on which to base any criminal prosecution, but may take the matter to the Grand Jury.

Davis emphasized that his Metro office was interested only in removing all county offices from any suspicion.

Two commissioners came to him, he said, for help in correcting what they said was a "mistake" in approving a zoning commission recommendation for Monuse's variance permit.

They approved the rezoning, they said, because there was no objection, then learned that home owners did not receive building department notices ordinarily sent out from Eastwood's office.

Power Line Jolt Kills Kite Flier

'Uncle Harold Came Out to Help Me'

According to Metro homicide investigators, the two had been flying the dangerous toy for more than an hour before it snagged on a deadly high-voltage power line at 4:50 p.m.

As Metro rescue squadmen worked feverishly but unsuccessfully to revive Rosenblum, blonde, curly-haired Becky told the story of the fatal incident:

"Uncle Harold bought the kite at the store this morning because I was going to spend the weekend at his house. This afternoon we put it together and had it flying pretty high.

"When we ran out of string, Uncle Harold went in the house and got the wire and tied it on the end of the string.

"I flew it alone for a while but when it got cloudy, Uncle Harold came out and started to bring the kite down. All of a sudden it went into a dive and then Uncle Harold fell down."

Rosenblum's wife, May, was in her kitchen preparing spaghetti sauce for dinner when her husband took the fatal shock. "I saw a pink flash from outside and then the lights went off," said Mrs. Rosenblum.

"Then I heard Becky pounding on the door, saying that my husband had fallen down. When I saw him, I knew what had happened."

Rosenblum, who recently sold his grocery market at 28th St. and N. Miami Ave. was the first kite flier electrocuted in Dade since 1949 when Miami banned metal kite wires after a similar accident killed a South Miami man.

Investigators for the Florida Power & Light Co. said the contact that killed Rosenblum carried 7,620 volts.

What's New?

Hello, Hon; Well, I Got Shot Today

"What's new, honey?" asked Mrs. Edward R. Cormack, talking to Kansas City from Miami Friday.

Married here three months ago, she was staying in Miami until her husband found a place for them to live in Kansas City.

"Well, I just got shot," replied Cormack, 32, deliveryman for a Kansas City scale company.

Cormack gave up and went about his work, planning to call his wife, Nonnie, after she had time to calm down.

However, Mrs. Cormack took direct action. She appealed to the chief telephone operator in Miami for help. The operator called Kansas City police. The homicide squad swung into action.

Detectives found the outside telephone booth from which Cormack had called. No one knew of a shooting in that neighborhood.

It took two hours of police work to find Cormack, who was out on his route, and learn that he was quite healthy.

Then he called his wife and explained everything:

Roadblock Suit Goes To Court

Former Miami Mayor Abe Aronovitz, ardent foe of police roadblocks, filed an injunction suit Friday in Circuit Court to have the practice halted.

He also unleashed a charge that Miami Municipal Court judges are illegally fining some motorists brought before them on charges of not having their driver's licenses.

Aronovitz

City Judge Mitchell Goldman, advocate of what the police call "safety checkpoints," partially agreed with Aronovitz on the latter score.

According to state law, a driver given a ticket for not having his license cannot be convicted if he presents the license when he appears in court.

In such cases, city judges are following the practice of charging the drivers a $1 fee.

Asked if the fee was legal, Goldman replied:

"Basically no, but we felt that they should be charged something."

The former mayor held that the roadblocks are unconstitutional and a threat to civil liberties.

He maintained Miami police "cannot engage in illegal arrests of citizens who have given them no probable cause for arrest."

The roadblocks, he added, are "of such a flagrant, wanton and reckless nature that they constitute a malicious interference with the rights and liberties of plaintiff (Aronovitz) and indicate a complete indifference on the part of defendants to such rights and liberties."

Aronovitz contended in the suit that the city judiciary had usurped the power of the city commission in approving the roadblocks. He named City Judges Goldman and Francis Sobieski as proponents of the plan.

Detective Suspended

Lewd Photos Shot In Police Station

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

A Miami detective and a civilian police employe were suspended Friday after admitting they made nude and pornographic pictures of a young mother in police headquarters.

Chief of Police Walter G. Headley said Detective Henry Tillman admitted posing with the 25-year-old woman for an obscene picture taken in the photo laboratory last September.

Headley said the suspensions "take effect at once," and that formal charges will be filed next week. His own recommendation, he said, would be that the two men be fired.

"The cases will go before the Civil Service Board for its recommendations to City Manager Arthur Evans," he said.

Both Tillman who is also a well-known stock car racer, and Russak denied they had taken pictures of other girls. The shots of the young mother, they said, were made when she was separated from her husband and two children. "They since have been reunited and have left Miami for North Carolina," their statements said.

Headley said his investigation showed "the girl hung around the station at night for several days," and on one occasion asked that a police identification picture be made of her.

Tillman's statement said he took the girl to the photo lab, but left after the one picture was made in which he appeared. Russak told Headley he "went ahead and made the other pictures because she wanted them."

Only two sets were printed, according to Russak, "one for the girl and one for myself." However, copies of the pictures had been circulating in Miami for some time.

Tillman, 35, had been a member of the police department since October, 1947. He lives at 2773 NW 37th St. Russak, 41, of 2265 SW 27th Ter., joined the department in March, 1947. Both are married.

Tillman drew a 15-day suspension along with a fellow officer in 1948 for taking an admitted drunk home instead of jailing him after his arrest by a third policeman.

He escaped suspension in 1955 after being accused of intoxication and fighting with another officer.

School Site 'Hatchet' Unburied

Dade School Board members celebrated the scheduled construction of new Miami Beach High School Friday by digging a hole—but foes of the school refused to bury the hatchet.

Marring the ground-breaking ceremonies were approaching rain clouds and news that the board would face new legal action against the replacement for crowded Beach High.

John Cotten Howell, attorney for neighboring property owners who have fought the school for two years, said he would seek a Circuit Court injunction to keep construction from starting.

A suit is pending against the City of Miami Beach, which sold the school site, an old golf course, to the School Board.

Howell said his clients are taxpayers who seek to void the sale on the grounds that voters nearly 30 years ago validated the bonds used to buy the site with the expectation of getting a golf course — not a high school site.

Howell said the Circuit Court is expected to rule Tuesday on his request that the school board be made a party to the present suit so that it can then be enjoined from putting up the building.

Dade Growers Jittery

Cuban Produce Flooding In

Carloads of Cuban tomatoes and cucumbers, pouring into this country through Florida ports, are giving Dade growers the financial heebie-jeebies.

The imports have been a problem for the past 30 years, said agriculture officials, but they've never come in such overwhelming quantities before.

For instance — 11 carloads of Cuban cucumbers arrived recently in West Palm Beach in a single day. Florida farmers shipped three carloads all last week.

"We can live on competition," said one of Dade's biggest growers, J. Abney Cox, "but when they (Cubans) pay $1.50 a day for labor and we pay $6 or $7 a day, what can we do?"

Cox, and other growers in this area, said the large shipments from Cuba and Mexico "materially affected our market the past few weeks."

Dade County Agent John Campbell said tomato prices are off some, but hesitated to put the full blame on the foreign competition.

"Both Cuba and Mexico have been a thorn in the side to Dade vegetable growers," he said, "but it's an old story. The main effect is to lower prices."

He said Dade now is producing more than 50 per cent of Florida's tomato crop.

In spite of repeated trips to Washington by farmers from this area, congressional action to stop the foreign shipments is almost impossible, he said.

"Any kind of embargo would almost ruin the good relations between our countries," he said.

WALTER WINCHELL

Butt Injures Dempsey Near Heart

JACK DEMPSEY'S illness, which has him worried, was caused by an accidental butt in the chest while refereeing a wrestling match for a Boston charity. Punctured vessels around the heart. He's quit refereeing . . .

Jack Dempsey ... hurt

Chickee James' real first name is Nancy. Remember, you read that here first! Jockey Con Errico and his wife (Joan Wynne, ex-Copa Girl) just got their legal separation . . . Robert Preston put back the 20 lbs. he lost (during the run) on his 2-week vacation from "Music Man" . . . Tinker Bell, the star stripteuse, reports she has her happiest booking working for Rose La Rose's "ideal" Burlesk Theater in Toledo . . . Doris Buchwald, the colyumist's sister, and I. Kahmi, writer, unite March 15 . . . Alex Lewyt started his biz career making bow ties for corpses. Now chiefs a corporation with huge gov't contracts plus a vacuum cleaner factory . . . The author of "You Can Live To Be 100" (Dr. Raymond Borden) is 28 . . . Beautyware wants Anita Ekberg to model its line of breadboxes!

Robert Preston ... heft

"NOLA," the famed tune without lyrics for 41 years, feels like she's had a facelift with Sunny Skylar's wordage . . . Yul Brynner's first film wage was $750. He will net $750,000 for his role in "Cinerama Circus" . . . Kay Kendall's real name is Justine McCarthy . . . The words and music of Don Gibson's "Who Cares?" and "Oh, Lonesome Me" are closer than Khrushchev and Mikoyan . . . Alger Hiss has seen "The Quare Fellow" play twice. The theme deals with prison life . . . Marsha Rivers (of the Steve Allen show) wears a gold football charm around her throat. It is inscribed "84" which is gift-giver Harland Svare's number. He's the N.Y. Giants football ace . . . Gilbert Millstein in the Sabbath Times: "The susurrus of sound" . . . He means the sound of whispering.

Gordon MacRae ... h-m-m

THEY SAY Van Cliburn still gets only $250 for some of his concerts. Deals made before the Russians made him world-famous . . . Now they say Mickey Rooney's bride-to-be will be Barbara Thomason . . . Gordon MacRae has taken the pledge (no gambling) while booked in Vegas. Sort of tardy, isn't it? . . . The Roger Lewis' (Lisa Daniels) will greet the Stork. He's the United Artists press chief . . . Cradle-robber dept: Art Ford and Veronica Lake's lovely daughter Diane at Renato's . . . The John Larkins, he's the star of the TV series "Edge of Night," were blessed with a baby actress . . . Rod Steiger, star of "Rashomon," uses actress Claire Bloom's comb to beautify his beard in the Little Club mirrors . . . Gasoline in Russia will be perfumed with essence of rose. It will cost about $1 per gallon.

★ ★ ★

Billy Dulles, related to the Sec'y of State, is following London model Willow Morel to Yurrop. The youth's mater (who doesn't approve) is following both . . . Michael Rennie will star in a courtroom soon. Involving the wife of a famed movie producer-director. Great for the newspapers . . . A mixed marriage that escaped headlines: Garry Moore's secy Joan Medeo to Harry Harris of the N.Y. State Commission Against Discrimination . . . Sue Chandler, writing song lyrics only two years, has a good record in "To Make a Long Story Short" (I Love You). Al Brown co-auth'd . . . A coast stripper bills herself: "Marilyn Mansfield, the Kim Novak of Burlesk." (One way of earning your Bread & Bardot.)

★ ★ ★

RENATA TEBALDI (Maria Callas' arch rival) was asked why she doesn't team with Callas for concerts. "God won't permit it," she reportedly said . . . Vicki Kellem, heiress to a music publishing fortune, decided not to marry. He is one of songwriter Frank Loesser's aides . . . Nearly all the cuties in "Destry Rides Again" will seem familiar. They were the busy ones in "Li'l Abner" . . . Chas. Robinson of the "Tall Story" show gave a would-be mugger on 8th Avenue a clop on the head that nearly took it off . . . Gregory, maitre d' at midtown's Eden Roc, spurned an offer to "front" another place as half-partner . . . The Monsignore's James Aufiero and Ann Walker, ex-Latin Q. beauty, populated the Roney Plaza beach last week . . . Bob Hope is sicker than he knows.

Actors Get Small Doses

NEW YORK —(AP)— Reginald Denham, veteran stage director, says that a prime necessity of his craft is "staying three or four moves ahead of the actors."

Outlining his method of molding a company of players into successful production, Denham explains that the director must analyze each role before the actor does so that the efforts of all may be effectively integrated.

"Besides," he adds, "an actor can absorb just so much of a part each day, and you must have it all analyzed so you know just how much to give him."

Denham, who has guided over 200 plays, is staging "The Gazebo" for Broadway this season.

RAVES FROM THE PUBLIC!
STEVE ELLIS: "Honestly, this show is so well produced — so much on the ball — we truly enjoyed it — Everyone great, top to bottom — production sensational!"
FRANK KATZENTINE: "The best revue I've ever seen. I don't think there is anything near it anywhere. It should be on Broadway."
BEN GAINES: "One of the finest shows I've ever seen . . . it is great!"
JACK SANDLER: "The stock market number is the fastest-moving thing I've seen in years. I laughed myself sick at the whole show!"
SEYMOUR RUBIN: "A brilliant show — fast, funny — we enjoyed every minute of it. One of the finest!"
GLORIA DE HAVEN (Mrs. Dick Fincher): "Such a thrill! Dick and I enjoyed every minute! No dwelling in the past, but beautiful touches of it — it's a modern delight!"
JOE COHEN: "One of the greatest night-club evenings my wife and I have ever had. It's modern and up-to-date — a miracle of united staging and timing."
JERRY LESTER: "More than six times as great as any other show with one star — which only proves that greatness is timeless."
DEAN MURPHY: "They are great — so is the show! This is a must for anyone who loves show business or superb entertainment."

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

Oh, That Last Thought!

THE MAN WAS drunk but friendly.

"Here's my old friend, Larry," he said as I walked in. "I'm always glad to see good old Larry. I don't know if you know me or not, but I've known you for more than 10 years."

I assured him that I had seen him around.

"You're a fine fellow," he said. "I really like you. You're the best man on The Herald."

I said thanks with appropriate modesty.

"Yes, and I used to know your wife, too," he said. "She's a beautiful woman. And smart, too. She's one of the smartest women I ever knew. You're mighty lucky to have such a good wife."

I agreed with him.

"I've seen those kids of yours," he said, "and they're handsome, well behaved children. You have a fine family. Yes sir, you're a lucky man. I admire and envy you."

I thanked him again.

"There's only one thing," he said. "I can't stand that stinking stuff you write."

I didn't say anything.

MRS. JAYE TARNELL Hallandale, informs us that there is a hamlet in New Hampshire named Blow-me-Down.

And Jos. Scotty Simpkins, Fort Pierce, says that his home town, New Bedford, Mass., had both a Nanny Goat Hill and a Pigtown Hill.

"We used to pick blueberries and huckleberries as big as marbles on the woodland side of Pigtown Hill," he recalls.

INDIAN LORE, reported by Frank Klatt, Hollywood:

Among the early settlers, the Indians had a reputation of being able to tell whether a coming winter would be mild or severe. They seemed to have a sure-fire method.

One day a settler asked an Indian how they did this.

The Indian replied: "When we see white man chop very large woodpile, we know it will be heap cold winter."

I HAD NEVER HEARD that, but I had heard the one about the tourist who asked the Seminole Indian how they could tell when hurricanes were coming.

COMES THIS ADVICE from Mrs. Maud J. Lee, Fort Lauderdale:

"In promulgating your cogitations, or articulating your superficial, sentimental or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity."

Then she adds: "In other words, Don't use big words."

I appreciate the advice, but don't think I need it. I don't know any big words.

"Back at the turn of the century—Sweet Caporal cigarets, with pictures of flags, flowers, ballplayers, and last but not least, actresses in shocking costumes—tights, big hats with ostrich plumes, wasp waists.

"Ladies did not smoke and men who used 'dope sticks' were not gentlemen. Four letter words were in the dictionary, but never used.

"And beer was five cents for a big schooner. I could go on and on, but people have more fun nowadays, even if they have to look at TV."

Yes, but they can't get Sweet Caporals.

MR. AND MRS. JACK ANDERSON, Hollywood, recently received a picture of their six grandchildren. It had been taken by their son, Harry, who had so much trouble trying to keep six youngsters posed together that he wrote a poem about the experience. Part of it goes:

Some would shed tears and have to be soothed,
While others kept grinning and tried not to move.
The parents were frantic, each trying to help,
But all they were doing was helping the yelps.

I sympathize very much with that man's troubles. We can't even get three kids to hold still at one time for a picture. I shudder to think of trying it with twice that many.

Offend No One

By CARROLL RIGHTER
Saturday, February 7, 1959

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A day for subtle maneuvering, so that you offend nobody yet gain own legitimate ends. If one in power makes any sly comment, do not let it bother you and particularly do not argue. He or she is working under tension. Be cheerful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you are planning to neglect your home and other obligations today to run out to new interest or sport, reflect! Be practical. Put house in order instead.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be certain to remain on the very highest level of consciousness today. Take care you do not get taken in by some very clever Bigwig who would steer you in the wrong direction for selfish motives. FOR YOUR COPY of Carroll Righter's individual 16-page Forecast for March send your birth date and 50c in coin (no stamps) to Carroll Righter Forecast, (Miami Herald), Box 1895, Grand Central Sta., N.Y. 17, N.Y.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A dynamic associate could today get you in bad with some big executive or official if you are not on your guard. Keep your head and you win out. Steer the course in a different direction.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are very anxious to dash out to what appears to be most exciting and interesting site or gathering, but be sure to first attend to important duties that must be performed.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take care you do not go overboard financially or emotionally today because you are ambitious and dissatisfied with present existence. A false step now could mean ruination.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Go about practically completing any work that must be done at home without wasting time or energy in altercations with family ties. Remember that they are under a strain too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) It is very important you exercise every care today in whatever you do, or there is danger of accident or mishap that could be very expensive in the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Most necessary you look into matters of improving health, charm and appearance today. Also, increase harmony and affection with family ties and get greater good will from business associates.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care you do not indulge in self-pity today for this is negative thinking. Step out and be of service to others, show understanding and kindness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are torn between work that you feel you must do today and going out socially to have a really good time. Concentrate on the practical right now because it is important.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There is wisdom now in forging ahead with your plans and goals in a relaxed and unobtrusive manner. Also, be certain to add those touches to surroundings that will give a magic touch.

Jack Kofoed Says

One Lawyer Can't Stand the 'Sniping'

AN ATTORNEY I've known ever since he was a University of Miami law student complains that newspapers make a whipping boy of the legal profession.

Of course, this isn't so, but some people are so touchy about the work they're engaged in that any item lacking enthusiastic approval is catalogued sniping.

Lawyers are necessary, and most, like my friend, are honest and ethical. But, neither they, doctors, nuclear physicists, newspapermen, garbage collectors, nor anyone else, is above criticism.

My friend must know something about the history of his business. He must have read about the unsavory firms of Howe and Hummel, Fallon and McGee, and others whose ethics were fragile as a Sevres china cup.

Others could be cited, but these will do. Did the fact that newspapers told about the sins and the downfall of these attorneys prove a campaign of persecution?

A committee is currently investigating unethical practices in the legal and medical professions, and State's Attorney Richard Gerstein is urging that all, who have information which might be helpful to the investigation, to come forward. Mr. Gerstein is a lawyer, not a newspaper editor.

My friend must know that, while the percentage is small, there are still shysters like the notorious Abe Hummel, practicing today.

Is there any reason in the world why papers should censor out news of legal wrongdoing?

I AM PROUD of being a newspaperman, but realize that all who labor in journalistic fields are not paragons of virtue. The percentage of the honest and the able is as high as in any profession, but there are bums and chiselers, too, and they get no protection when they stumble.

We have had men like George Jones, editor of The New York Times who in the face of million dollar bribes and personal violence, exposed the Tweed Ring, and brought it tumbling down.

And, we have had reporters like Jake Lingel, who sold himself for a place on Scarface Capone's payroll, and was murdered because he knew too much.

We're not afraid to condemn the Lingels and praise the Joneses, and I don't see why my friend should be touchy as a raw wound when a newspaper exposes a shyster. He has plenty of fine lawyers, past and present, to brag about.

No community can get along without a free and honest press, nor ethical attorneys. So, why, when a heel crops up in either pursuit, should there be touchy repercussions?

PHILADELPHIA architect William F. B. Koelle, who has wintered in Miami for years, belongs to more clubs than any other human being. The quaintest is the Widows' and Widowers in the Quaker City. It has 13 representatives of each sex, and meets only on Fridays which fall on the 13th of the month. This should jinx anybody, but Bill isn't content to limit it to Philadelphia. He's rounded up eligibles in Our Town and they'll get together next Friday.

NOTES ON A SHABBY CUFF:

Walt Disney's six million dollar production of "The Sleeping Beauty" will be premiered at the Sheridan Theater Tuesday night. It's for the benefit of the Lend a Hand summer camp, so tickets range in price from $2.50 to $15. By attending you do a good deed for poor kids in our midst and see a great picture. In having fun, you buy fun for youngsters who won't have it otherwise.

If you like TV westerns, you're bound to love a rodeo, with bucking broncbos and plunging Brahman bulls. This afternoon and tomorrow you can get a bucketful of thrills at the Homestead rodeo. It will feature some of the country's best cowboys, and besides, it is for the benefit of the Homestead kids.

The "Retreads" is an organization of veterans, who served in both World War One and World War Two. If you want to know more about it, buzz NE 4-0133 . . . ISDA (sons and daughters of Italy) are sponsoring a dance at the North Miami armory tonight. Wanna go?

The Club, Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Union stages its annual ball at Bayfront auditorium Monday night. Highlight of the evening is the crowning of the area's prettiest waitress as queen. The winner will be a worthy match for "Miss America" for there are more pretty dolls among tray toters than in cafe society.

The Humane Society offers obedience training classes for master and dog, beginners Wednesdays, advanced pupils Thursday night at 7:30 at 2101 NW 95th St. From what I've seen some owners need the lessons more than do the pooches.

They'll have a new play, "Not in the Book" on the boards of the Royal Poinciana Theater in Palm Beach Monday.

The stars are Ann Harding, Edward Everett Horton and Reginald Owen. Between them they have more than 120 years of stage and screen experience, so don't expect muffed lines.

According to Dutch Shulenberg a girl has reached the awkward stage when she is too old to count on her fingers, and too young to count on her legs . . . Jack Murphy wants to set up a reunion for the Ponce de Leon class of '49. He can be contacted at 10 NE 50th Ter.

Date Deadline?

By S. M. DUVALL and EVELAN M. DUVALL, Ph.Ds

IT DEPENDS on many things of course—how old the two people are, where they are going, and what time the affair is to be over. Researchers Connor and Hall found that for college students, in their late teens, the usual hour for returning from special occasion dates was between 1 and 2 a.m. Routine dates in the same student populations were usually over before midnight. Whatever the time for getting in, it should be agreed upon by those who have a right to be interested.

Should companies encourage employes to submit ideas for improvement?
Yes——— No———

Yes. Forty-six per cent of companies studied have definite programs for encouraging employees suggestions. Two-thirds of these paid their workers for usable ideas. A few encourage only the foremen, but 96 per cent of the others encourage ideas from all workers. The usual method of payment is to give a percentage of the savings that result.

How can one marriage equal three families?
Your opinion———

Simple! As soon as you marry, you become a member of three families—his, hers and yours. The family you found by your marriage claims your first loyalty, certainly. But HER family is also HIS, as he finds out when the first baby or the first holiday comes. And, HIS family is HERS to live with as a dutiful daughter-in-law. If HE is too close to HIS family, SHE has in-law trouble. If SHE is too close to HER family, HE has in-law problems. This elemental triangle of married living is comfortable only when the husband-wife relation is stronger than any other, for both of them.

ATTENTION
Packard Owners

HERE in all its' Majestic Glory is a beautiful triple tone Dover white and Metallic Forest Green 1958 PACKARD PATRICIAN 4-DOOR SEDAN for you and of course it has all the equipment in the books. There's POWER STEERING and BRAKES, the big SELECT-O-RONIC radio with dual front and rear seat speakers that finds its own stations — automatic — TWIN ULTRA-MATIC automatic transmission — POWER WINDOWS and 4-WAY POWER SEAT, dual thermostat controlled heaters, A-1 white wall tires. Safety padded dash board and EZ eye Solex tinted glass.

THE interior is beautiful and of course, factory original, including the doorpanels, headliner and thick pile floor carpeting. You'll find a very expensive set of custom tailor made to order seat covers that are color blended to match the gorgeous interior.

NOW — here's the best part. We're putting this beauty on

HERE is your chance to own America's most popular imported station wagon at a bargain price. You'll be getting that English Ford up to 35 miles per gallon of gas economy to help you make the payments — And own the car that put the fun back into driving. The Herford green finish is in showroom condition, and the entire original factory interior including the washable naugahyde seats, doorpannels and headliner is like new. Even the Firestone "gum dipped" tubeless white wall tires show hardly any wear at all. Better be first in line for this smooth performer, because at the special low price of only $1,095, it will sell to the first person that drives it. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1951 model for the down payment.

With Your Help We Can Be With Our Families On Sunday

We're the Salesmen who work for the Automobile Dealers of Miami and we're engaged in a community effort to observe Sunday as a day of rest. We work both day and night during the week in order to serve your needs and we believe that we should be entitled to Sundays off just as most of you enjoy.

This move has the wholehearted endorsement of the leaders in our city, the Miami Ministerial Association and the Miami Automobile Dealers Association and means better working conditions for all of us in the automobile industry. Therefore:

ALL THE AUTOMOBILE DEALERS who are members of the MIAMI AUTOMOBILE DEALERS ASSOCIATION WILL BE CLOSED

ALL DAY
SUNDAY

We Ask Your Cooperation By Shopping For Your Car TODAY!

The above message is from a man who is very important to us — our salesman. We find that the better men are usually family men with responsibilities who are willing to work hard all week long, but want to be able to spend Sundays with their families. Consequently, we are closing on Sunday and we ask your co-operation by shopping for your cars on weekdays or weeknites.

NOLAN BROWN Cadillac

OPEN LETTER TO USED CAR BUYERS

First — Cadillac is the most beautiful car on the road.
In our used car department we have the most beautiful and reasonable priced used Cadillacs you can find anywhere. They are traded from the original owners and look and run like new. We can make you a very attractive offer for your present car. Our stock also consists of many other makes and models of clean used cars.
Come by, see them, drive them, or call us for a demonstration. Then you will see why you should . . .

Another Fishing Duel Brewing Between Williams and Snead

SNEAD

WILLIAMS

Snead, more than once, has expressed willingness to tackle Ted and makes no secret of the belief he can outdo him. Sammy is still proud over catching a 15-pound bonefish a few years back. It was a record entry in the Met Tournament.

Williams has left the impression he thinks that was all luck. A duel between the two would produce wide publicity for the area—It would be publicized by all news media.

More Exciting Than Fiction

JONES

"No scenario writer would have written a finish like the one staged by Baltimore's Colts in beating the New York Giants in the sudden death playoff," Jones remarked. "The dramatic finish did a lot for pro football."

Jones advised that Coach Paul Brown will be in Florida soon for a vacation which will include golf. Paul, a perfectionist, has had to settle for something less than that on the links.

Price Hopes to Book LPGA Tourney

"I WAS very much interested in the note in your column concerning a Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament here next year," writes City Publicity Director Lew Price. "Rest assured I am going to do everything in my power to bring such a tournament here. We were well pleased with the Sunday tournament — final round of the LPGA three-day tournament" . . . Truman Connell, Tequesta, played with Pete Cooper in one round of the recent Panama Open, which Pete won . . . "Cooper hit all 18 greens that day," Truman recalled. "He missed two putts, but had a 68" . . . C. C. Shaw reports plans are being made for a big amateur tournament in Havana next month, with many outstanding South Florida golfers being invited . . . C. C. thinks conditions will be back to normal in Cuba by that time . . . The tourney will be held at the Villa Real course, where Joe Nichols is the pro . . . Ralph DeChiaro's golfing has improved since he took lessons from Pro Lloyd Wadkins of LaGorce . . . Riviera is planning another member-guest tourney next month, because the past one proved so popular . . . John C. Clark, former Hialeah president, has recovered from a recent operation and his many friends at LaGorce were happy to see him looking so well.

This Prediction Could Backfire

"PLEASE LET me be the first to predict for the 1959 baseball season that the Yankees and Milwaukee will most definitely NOT win the pennants in their respective leagues," writes Dorian Dennis, 215 22nd St., Miami Beach. "Sorry, but I cannot say who will. My crystal ball is terribly limited."

The Mailbag

COMMENT: You might be right about the Braves, Dorian, but get ready for a shock. The Yankees will repeat.

"I sure would like to credit you with the most conservative statement of the year," writes Irwin Kayfetz, 3690 NW 36th St. "You recently wrote, 'My guess is Patterson (Floyd) will beat Ingemar Johansson.' My words and mark 'em good. The Swede will last, at the outside, three rounds. I sincerely feel that the champ will win in round one, or two."

COMMENT: Consider your words marked, Irwin. There is plenty of time to pick the exact round.

A Case for Prize Fighting

PRIZE FIGHTING has been under heavy fire for years. Sport Magazine offers a case for the sport, presented by Nat Fleischer, noted authority on boxing.

Who's to Blame?

Fleischer starts by taking issue with the truth of many charges against the sport. He raises the issue, "The critics of boxing apparently don't feel it deserves the same fair play and consideration granted to other sports. They hold little regard for the good that boxing does—the priceless opportunity it offers to slum kids, its value as a builder of strength and character, and its entertainment appeal to millions of fight fans."

Nat then raises the question, "shall we abolish boxing because the sight of blood is nauseating to some, because boxing has its share of injuries and deaths, as do all other contact sports, or because unsavory characters are reported to be among the ruling powers in the sport? That the game needs a clean-up so far as the last point is concerned is a fact no one connected with the sport can ignore.

COMMENT: That raises the question of when they are going to start producing results?

If Nadir, Sharpsburg Don't Steal Curtain Call

Hialeah Presents: A 9-Furlong 'Drama' Featuring Bardstown

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

Bardstown was to have shared top billing with Clem, but the latter was forced to cancel his engagement because of an injury during "rehearsals" Thursday morning.

In the first six furlongs of today's performance, Bardstown is expected to share the stage with Air Pilot, Amerigo and Village Idiot. These three are known in the racing trade as "speedballs." They are brilliant performers in the first act but have a tendence to slow down as the show goes on.

It should be added that some "speedballs" have been known to maintain their lustre throughout the performance and have wound up by stealing the show.

However, if today's feature goes according to the script, Bardstown will have dealt with with the speedballs by the end of six furlongs or possibly a mile.

Then he must cope with more dangerous rivals such as Nadir, Sharpsburg, Admiral Vee, A Dragon Killer and Maestro 2nd.

Sharpsburg and Nadir particularly have displayed an intense desire for top billing and are likely to give the "star" a serious argument as the drama reaches its climax.

The entire performance should last only about a minute and 48 seconds but will draw the attention of 25,000 in the "theater" and several million others via coast-to-coast television.

The show will be a comedy to some and a tragedy to others but no one knows for sure which group he'll be in. That's what makes racing the exciting show it is.

Namesake

Hialeah racing secretary and handicapper Charles J. McLennan holds portrait of his father, Joseph McLennan, for whom today's handicap was named. Before his death, the elder McLennan was nationally renowned in thoroughbred circles as a racing secretary.

Why Was Bout Allowed?

Boxing Commission To Probe Hall KO

By MEL DERRICK
Herald Sports Writer

Boxer Billy Hall and his manager will be asked to appear before the Miami Boxing Commission Tuesday and explain why Hall was allowed to fight three times in 10 days, Commission Secretary Arthur DiVincent said Friday.

Hall, TKO'd by unbeaten Ed Beattie in the fourth round of a scheduled six-rounder Thursday, lost all three fights. He said he remembered nothing about the Beattie fight, and accused reporters of ribbing him when they asked about a first round knockdown he suffered.

DiVincent said Hall, as a TKO loser, would automatically be suspended 30 days under the Commission rules.

"We had no idea Hall had had so many losses recently," said DiVincent in explaining why the fighter was allowed on Thursday's card. "We have no record of boxing at the Beach. We should have known about it."

"I had no idea Beattie could take Billy out, and I certainly wouldn't have made the match if I had."

"Beattie may be too much of a fight for Ludlow," he said. "I don't want to see any of my kids get hurt."

Miami and Miami Beach Boxing Commission rules allow a four-round fighter to fight again after 48 hours, but DiVincent said the situation seldom comes up.

Commission Physician Dr. James J. McCormick, who signaled Referee Cy Gottfried to stop the Hall-Beattie fight, said he felt that Hall wasn't hurt badly.

"But there's no sense in letting a kid take unnecessary punishment," he said.

Dr. McCormick said there's nothing particularly unusual in a preliminary boxer fighting two or three times a week.

Arthur DiVincent
. . . a call for Hall

"Four rounds isn't long," he added, "and lots of times a fighter does more than that in workouts.

"But losing two fights in a row does make a difference," he said.

Hall, who has had 101 bouts including 70 amateur fights, was beaten at Miami Beach Tuesday a week ago and at Tampa Monday night. Both were four-round decision losses.

He told The Herald he had had six fights in two and a half weeks.

"My records don't show that," said Lee. "My records show him having only four fights since Dec. 30."

Hall, who said he handled fighters as a hobby ("You can't make any money with prelim kids"), said he'd rather get out than have any of his fighters hurt.

"But young kids have pride. It's hard to look them in the eye and tell them they should quit . . . even when they should."

Grades Fell Miranda, 3 Other UF Gridders

GAINESVILLE — (UPI) — Four Florida football players, including three fullbacks, have failed to maintain satisfactory scholastic averages and will not take part in spring drills.

Coach and Athletic Director Bob Woodruff announced Friday the players who did not meet first semester academic requirements were fullbacks Sonny Giles of Jacksonville, Jon MacBeth of Pensacola, Clive Yates of Miami Edison and Guard Vic Miranda of North Miami.

YATES MIRANDA

All four players lettered last season and were expected to be mainstays on the 1959 Gator team.

"Unless these boys can make up their deficiencies prior to next September," Woodruff said, "this will leave the Gators with a single letterman fullback, Bob Milby of Ocala, returning next year."

All four players returned home after the first semester examinations and were not available for comment on whether they intended to make up the work during the summer. The brief announcement from Woodruff did not indicate the boys flunked out of school, but failed to achieve the average necessary for competition.

Hot Delany Risks Unbeaten Streak

By Herald Wire Services

Ireland's Ron Delany risks his unbeaten indoor mile record against three other sub-four minute competitors tonight, but the high jump and pole vault may steal the spotlight.

The occasion is the 70th Boston AA Games at Boston Gardens which is boasting two firsts:

The first indoor meeting of four men who have run a mile in less than four minutes outdoors — Delany, Brian Hewson of England, Sweden's Dan Waern and Poland's Zbigniew Orywal.

RUSSIA'S basketball captain claims his team proved itself the strongest in the World Championships in Chile — despite its disqualification (for refusing to play Nationalist China.)

"Having defeated the Olympic and World Champion United States and the Brazilian team (named tourney winner with Russia disqualified) twice," said Capt. Maigonis Valdmanis, "our team showed it was the strongest."

JIMMY CONZELMAN, one-time boogie woogie piano player who twice coached the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League, has been named master-of-ceremonies for Monday night's Athlete of the Year banquet in Milwaukee.

Conzelman, who touched all bases in a kaleidescopic career, has played pro football and baseball, been a composer, musician, sculptor, writer, salesman and boxer. The term "swivel hipped" was coined to describe his football antics.

Rampaging Butts Hits Record 61

Bernie Butts cracked the Dade County prep basketball scoring record Friday night, pouring in 61 points to lead Hialeah High over South Broward, 88-52, at the Thorobred gymnasium.

Butts, who grabbed the county scoring lead for the season, bettered the previous one-game mark of 56 set by Miami High's Bobby Balch in 1957.

Gables Wins, But Jackson, Edison Lose

Coral Gables won but Miami Jackson and Miami Edison fell Friday night to Jacksonville high school basketball rivals.

All three games counted in the Big Ten.

The B games saw Edison's junior varsity trim Norland, 49-47, and Gables down the Southwest Miami Boys Club, 37-32.

Reynolds Wins 'Flag' Golf Meet

Mrs. Walter J. Reynolds won Class A in the Women's Golf Association Flag Tournament at LaGorce County Club Friday. She was 13 inches from the 18th hole.

Runnerup in Class A was Mrs. Thomas A. Grant, 10 feet from the 18th hole. Mrs. Sam Girmonde took Class B, finishing in the 18th cup, with Mrs. Anthony Elsasser second.

In competition for closest drive to the 13th flag, Mrs. Edward R. Jones was first.

Four teams also played off a tie for first place in last week's sweepstakes, and this time two foursomes tied with 63's. They were: Mrs. L. W. Witt, Mrs. William E. Beckham, Mrs. Arthur A. Appert, and Mrs. George Davis; and Mrs. Freddie Peterson, Mrs. L. B. Green, Mrs. Al DeMaris, and Mrs. Ralph Crum.

Ortega Decisions Stitch Despite Cut Over Eye

NEW YORK — (AP) — Gaspar Ortega, handicapped by a cut over his left eye suffered in the third round, broke a three-fight losing streak Friday night to take a split decision over Rudell Stitch of Louisville.

The two boys came together in the third round and Stitch apologized as he backed away while blood started to flow from a cut over Ortega's left eye. Apparently it was an accidental butt.

They took turns in a free-swinging scrap as the tide changed from round to round. Ortega, called the "Unlucky Indian" because he has lost three straight split decisions, scored heavily with body blows against his faster opponent.

Ortega, a 23-year-old Mexican, seemed to fight better after he got the eye cut. Standing his ground when Stitch rushed in, Gaspar drove home his right counter punches and also shook up his man with hooks to the body.

Judge Frank Forbes scored it 6-4 for Ortega and Referee Al Berl had it 5-5 in rounds but gave Ortega the edge in points 7-6. Judge Tony Castellano cast the dissenting vote of 5-4-1 for Stitch. The AP card was 6-4 for Ortega and a quick ringside poll of writers showed seven of 12 thought Ortega deserved the decision.

Ferrari May Quit Sebring Over Fuel

MODENA, Italy — (AP) — Discord over the brand of fuel to be used for cars in the 12-hour race at Sebring Friday threatened participation of the Italian Ferrari stable.

Enzo Ferrari, stable boss, said his participation in the American Endurance race March 12, depends on modification of the clause of race regulations which forces use of a single brand of fuel.

Ferrari said he hopes to participate in the race counting toward world championship with three 3000CC "Testa Rossa" (red head) sport cars. He said he is bound by contract to use only one brand of fuel for his racers but that the Sebring race organizers "want me to use another make."

White Sox 'Mystery' Boils; 14 Red Wings Fined $100

By Herald Wire Services

Baseball's big mystery boiled more merrily than ever Friday as Vice-President Chuck Comiskey sought legal proof that Bill Veeck wants to buy a majority holding in the club from Chuck's sister, Dorothy Comiskey Rigney.

At the same time, Dorothy's attorneys called a news conference today to "give the complete story on what this thing is all about."

Chuck, has asked the probate court to get numerous documents pertaining to Dorothy's handling of stock in the club. One of the documents he wants is a reported option Veeck holds until Feb. 18 to buy Dorothy's 54 per cent stock interest.

UM Posts Overtime Win, 84-81

ORLANDO — (AP) — Sharpshooting from the foul line in overtime lifted the University of Miami over Rollins College, 84-81, Friday night in the Florida Intercollegiate Conference basketball race.

Miami, the conference leader, hit for eleven points in the overtime while Rollins made only eight. Ron Godfrey, Miami's 6-foot-5 high point man for the night, made two of the charity tosses.

Governors Cup Race

29 Yachts Compete Today

By LUTHER EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

NASSAU — The twin 40-foot yawls, Rhubarb and Southern Star, lead the 1959 Southern Ocean Racing Conference going into today's third race, the 30-mile Nassau Cup in crystal-clear Bahamian waters.

Rhubarb, owned by Benjamin B. duPont, Pine Orchard, Conn., won the Miami-Nassau chase after finishing sixth in last Saturday's Lipton Cup off Miami Beach.

James W. Mullen's Southern Star from Richmond, Va., a product of the same fiber-glass mould, wound up third in the Miami-Nassau following a second-place Lipton finish.

Although SORC officials have not announced point standings, the sister yawls obviously are 1-2 in the battle for the circuit championship won last year by J. W. Hershey's 40-foot yawl, Ca Va.

Callooh, which Emil (Bus) Mosbacher of New York sailed to runnerup honors in the Miami-Nassau, could do no better than 14th in the Lipton. Defending champ Ca Va has logged 5-5 finishes in the two races.

Miami's Jack Price, consistent SORC contender with this 39-foot yawl Comanche, was eliminated from circuit contention by a belated disqualification in the Lipton, in which he finished fourth.

"Comanche has been disqualified," announced Lipton Chairman Edwin H. Mairs, "because I have learned that her motor was used in order to keep her from being driven aground on the beach last Saturday."

Comanche was sixth in the Miami-Nassau.

The Nassau Cup is sailed over a windward - leeward course. During recent years, skippers have encountered extremely heavy winds and high seas.

Since most Miami-Nassau starters emerged from the voyage without rigging mishaps, a fleet of at least 29 is expected today.

'Chisox, I Luv You'

By George, a Raise!

By United Press International

Landis quickly signed the contract, which called for an estimated $5,000 raise. Then he wrote a letter to Chisox Vice-President Charles Comiskey.

The raise, he said in the letter, was so "substantial" he simply couldn't express his appreciation on paper.

Brother, they just don't write letters like that any more. And the White Sox were so proud of this one that they told the press about it.

Hialeah Stock Cars Roar; Ford Favored at Hollywood

Al Ford is the heavy favorite at Hollywood, following his victory in the 30-lap feature last weekend. Ford chalked up a track record for the seven and a half mile test as he beat out Red Farmer and Vance Blevins.

Others expected to compete in the eight-event program tonight are: Bobby Johns, Rod Perry, Freddie Sweikert, Herb Tillman, Bill Ludwig and Al Gorham.

At Hialeah, Ernie Reeves, Charlie Monk and Jackie Evans head the eight-event proram. Other top drivers slated to compete include: Lamar Sloan, Mel Payne, Gene Winn and R. H. Ellis.

High Speeds Chalked Up At Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH — (UPI) — After practice runs over the new Daytona International Speedway Friday, drivers predicted high speeds will be necessary to win pole positions in the inaugural stock car racing features Feb. 20-22.

The fastest cars in each the convertible and late model sedan classes in today's opening day of trials will get pole positions in 100-mile races in those two classes Feb. 20.

Other trials Sunday and the following weekend will determine other positions. There is no limit to the number of starters.

The order of finish of the two Feb. 20 races will, in turn, determine positions for the 500-mile Grand National NASCAR Championship race Feb. 22.

McIntire, Johnstone

Curtis Cup Stars Win

PALM BEACH —(AP)— Curtis Cup Teammates Barbara McIntire of Lake Park and Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, posted semifinal victories Friday in the Palm Beach Women's Golf Championships.

Miss McIntire nosed Veteran Marge Burns of Greensboro, N. C., 2-1. Mrs. Johnstone, after a poor start, rallied to rout Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md., 6-4.

Gusty winds off the Atlantic Ocean made the going difficult, and each of the four women had her share of trouble.

Short putts which failed to drop contributed to Miss Burns' loss. On the 17th green, she needed only to sink a two-foot putt to halve the hole and stall off the finish. She missed, and Miss McIntyre won the hole and ended the match.

Miss McIntire was three-up after five holes, and two-up leaving the front nine.

Mrs. Johnstone had early trouble with the wind, trees and water holes and was one down at the fifth. Then fine fairway shots which left her with short putts enabled her to win the ninth to 13th holes in succession.

Miss McIntire and Mrs. Johnstone clash at 9:30 a.m. today in the 18-hole championship match.

Churruca Has Cesta Win Lead

Churruca, a husky Basque who has played much of this week with an assortment of injuries, holds the lead in the "most games won" race at Miami Fronton as the season nears the halfway mark.

Winnter of the title a year ago, the powerful youngster has registered 42 times in 47 nights thus far, well ahead of the pace he set last year when he annexed the title with 74 triumphs.

Running second was the somewhat underrated Carlos who shared "rookie of the year" honors a season ago. Carlos has 38 victories.

Juanito Looms Dania Choice

The 200-pound Basque, a steady performer in both singles and doubles, has nearly a .500 "in the money" record this season.

Born Juan Urreta Sololuce, Juanito will find his main competition coming from Ignacio in post six. "Iggie" is on a hot streak and is currently leading three of the title races. But the tough post position might work to his disadvantage.

Two Killed In Soccer Game Riot

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil — (AP)— Press reports from Livramento Friday said two persons died violent deaths in the aftermath of a disputed decision at a soccer match.

a—Dixie McKinley & W. M. Wickham entry.

Miami High Routs Boone Five, 73-44

Buddy Coleman led Miami High's 38 points in the first half. He scored 12 points, including six straight to lift Miami High's advantage from 9-6 to 15-6.

Dave Austin, Miami High's 6-3 sophomore rebounding terror, was the big gun in the 35-point second half. He hit 11 points in the final two quarters and finished with 16 points.

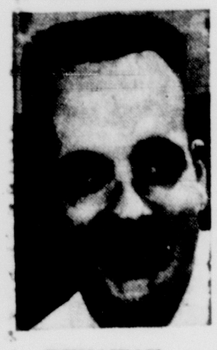
Tarpon 'In,' Trout 'Out' At Flamingo

An outline of the current fishing activities around Flamingo has been provided by Bill Matthews. On an outing to the Everglades National Park spot, Matthews noted the weighing-in of two tarpon—127 and 113 pounds. A number of smaller ones had been released.



DUNAWAY

Matthews, with George Pegram and his son, stuck to smaller stuff and the three anglers hauled in 35 trout during a junket to Sandy Key Basin. They also bagged a four-pound pompano, while Matthews fought it out with "the biggest mackerel I ever had on a plug rod," only to lose it at boatside.

Summing up, Matthews said "trout seem to be scattered outside and also in Whitewater Bay, along with the usual supply of snapper. Reds are not so thick, but one was taken that went over 20 pounds.

Speckled Perch in Tamiami Canal

DON'T BE SURPRISED if the Tamiami Canal turns into prime speckled perch water in the next few seasons. Anglers have been picking up an occasional speck from the roadside waterway, and veteran canal fishermen say they don't remember seeing a single one before this year.

The biggest haul so far was taken by M. R. Heuer of Miami last Wednesday. He strung three perch from one spot, then continued down the road and got two more in another place. All hit small underwater plugs.

A Sailfish on His 11th Birthday

FOR HIS 11TH birthday, Steve Krassner of North Miami Beach received his first charter fishing trip. He took over from there and completed his most memorable birthday present by catching a sailfish on the Sea Hawk, out of the Castaways Motel Dock . . . Guy Martin of Pompano Beach writes that his father-in-law, Henry J. Kuna Sr., St. Louis, has gone fishing on two successive weekends, catching a sailfish each time and no other fish of any description—a real purist . . . Ernie Smith and Walt Shelton, fishing out of Venetian Shores, whipped a 43-lb. sailfish in 54 minutes, using spinning tackle.

Vicious Piranha on Display Here

IF YOU'VE BEEN wanting to take a look at the infamous, flesh-eating piranha of South American waters, 21 of them are now on exhibit at the Miami Seaquarium.

The six-inch-long fish have razor sharp teeth, and they attack a swimming animal in large schools. Even wading is considered to be extremely dangerous in piranha-infested areas, according to Seaquarium curator Craig Phillips.

Piranhas are difficult to catch because they bite easily through the meshes of an ordinary net. Hook-and-line fishing is effective, but then there's the problem of removing them from a hook while maintaining possession of all your fingers. Steel traps are the solution.

In addition, the fish must be transported separately because they will attack and kill each other if paired up. Paradoxically, however, if a large number are placed together they live peaceably, because, Phillips says, "They won't choose up sides."

A Reader Tells the Critic She Likes to Pick Own TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK — (AP) — Here's an exchange of opinions with Mrs. Clyde Evans of Biloxi, Miss., who undoubtedly expresses the sentiments of many American television viewers. She writes:

"You wrote (recently), 'the coming seven days can't be called the most memorable week of the season on television, but there are several programs worth the twist of a dial.'

"I'd like to ask, along with dozens of other TV watchers, how you arrive at such conclusions? Why must we observe dozens of boring scientific programs or an hour of philharmonic music to be spending our time wisely?

"Most people can read all they care to in the daily newspapers or take a course in night school if they are interested. We enjoy an occasional 15 minutes about rockets, mental illness, bop, jazz or the classics.

"We are dull, unthinking people by Sunday and would prefer to be entertained with 'Andy Hardy' and 'Shirley Temple' rather than thoughts on the spiritual condition of our country. Every other meeting is addressed by a scientist or military man.

"Please tell me what's wrong with escaping a few hours a week into the westerns that are fantastic but unfrightening, or laughing with Lucy, Bob Cummings, George Burns or Bob Hope or Benny?

"As a housewife, I also enjoy the soap operas if I don't watch too often. Most of the dramas are either dull or too deep.

"Instead of hearing so much about keeping up with Russia, I suggest that these people who work so hard on Sundays go to church and pray. In my opinion God is the only one who can do anything for America now.

"I realize I will be classed with the thousands of nit-wits who do not appreciate the better or higher (if duller) things of life."

IN REPLY to Mrs. Evans:

Obviously I don't consider you a nit-wit or I would ignore your letter. You express opinions that are frequently voiced in letters I receive and again raise perplexing problems one faces in writing about television these days.

My opinions on "pick of the week" programs might be construed as condescending to all programs I don't mention, I realize.

But I am asked to give my personal preferences each week, and that they are.

The fact that I'd rather watch '20th Century' than a western doesn't mean I'm smarter than you. Rather, it means that I expect something different from television than you do.

Like yourself, I watch westerns and enjoy Hope and Benny. Unlike yourself, I have to write about what I see.

Personally, I want television to stimulate me rather than relax me.

But I don't expect it to do that every time I turn on the set. I only ask it to accomplish that once in a while—with drama or music or dancing or the discussion of ideas.

Persons and Programs

JOAN

NBC-TV's Steve Allen has been assured he'll be back next fall, but there is a distant possibility he may be shifted from Sunday night to another time spot.

Robert Preston, star of Broadway's "The Music Man," is the latest candidate to drop into the running for the title role in NBC-TV's Ellery Queen.

ABC-TV will devote one hour to a special telecast of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus on March 9 from Charlotte, N.C.

Ready for Ike

10

11

4 — MIAMI MATINEE—"Kiss and Tell," (1945), Shirley Temple, Walter Abel, Jerome Courtland. Shirley swears to keep secret the news of her brother's marriage. Shirley is seen leaving an obstetrician's office and gossip starts.

10 — HOPALONG CASSIDY — Hopalong and his friends uncover a plot planned by robbers.

7 — MOVIE — "Black Magic," (1949), Orson Welles, Nancy Guild. The evil plans of Cagliostro the Magician are thwarted when he seeks to take over an empire.

10 — MOVIE — "Honeymoon," (1947), Shirley Temple, Guy Madison. A G.I. with a three-day pass is supposed to meet his fiancee in Mexico City but they miss each other.

3

4:30

4 — MOVIE — "Last of the Mohicans," (1936), Randolph Scott, Binnie Barnes. Story of a British major who comes to New York to help the French fight the Huron Indians.

7 — HIALEAH RACE — $50,000 added McLennan Handicap for three-year-olds and up.

5

Quick Quiz

1. Which one of these players uses the largest ball?
   Kegler — Shortstop
   Golfer — Quarterback

2. Which one of these dwellings would come nearest to resembling a glass house?
   Hogan — Igloo
   Chalet — Wigwam

3. Which one of these wild creatures is most likely to rob a beehive?
   Elk — Fox
   Bear — Raccoon

4. The wife of which one of these might properly refer to her brood as a clutch?
   Chanticleer — Ferdinand
   Reynard — Peter

5. Which one of the following often is seen in the eyes of elderly people?
   Cascades — Cataracts
   Waterfalls — Rapids

ANSWERS

1. Kegler (bowler), 2. Igloo, 3. Bear, 4. Chanticleer (hen), 5. Cataracts (can be removed by eye surgeons very easily).

These symbols indicate program was previewed by T.V. Ted, The Herald's Scout

Gale Is 'Cowed'
. . . Gale Storm Show at 9 on 4

6:30 p.m.

4 — DEATH VALLEY — A school teacher wrongly accuses a gambler of robbery.

4 — PERRY MASON — Perry goes to the aid of the district attorney of a nearby county who has been threatened with blackmail because of a probe into alleged public building graft.

7 — PEOPLE ARE FUNNY — "Miss Minneapolis" will attempt to outsmart "Miss St. Paul."

10 — DICK CLARK — Tonight the show is populated with some of the newer rock-and-rollsville and you might like to give them a go. They are Dave Apple and The Applejacks, Brook Benton, Thomas Wayne and a group called The Bell Notes.

7 — PERRY COMO — Perry has one of his brightest shows in weeks tonight with bright and pleasant people around to help. There's a funny skit featuring Charlton Heston, with Perry helping him cut his first record—and helping both of them is the funny Sid Gould. Connie Francis will sing and so will the Mills Brothers. And there's a finale built around the tunes of Al Hoffman and Dick Manning. Color.

Best Bet

10 — PUBLIC DEFENDER — film.

8:30

4 — DEAD OR ALIVE—Hired by the town drunk to find his missing son, Josh sets off a chain reaction of intrigue leading to murder.

9

4 — GALE STORM — Guest star of Elena Verdugo teaches Gale Storm the finer points of bullfighting.

7 — BLACK SADDLE — A hotel owner (Anna Lisa) becomes involved in the search for a missing man when lawyer Culhane takes on an unusual law case.

10 — LAWRENCE WELK — "Join the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Girls" is tonight's featured production.

4 — HAVE GUN — Paladin takes his gun and travels into the middle of a feud between two brothers tonight. It's a feud over a woman — the best kind — and is frought with deep emotion, heavy hate and dirty looks. Paladin, of course, does his share to clear things up before everybody gets killed.

7 — CIMARRON CITY—Pretty Debra Paget pops up tonight and her presence causes all manner of violence. A couple of her thrown-over suitors are killed and it looks like there may be some more who bite the unrequited dust. George Montgomery, the first-string hero here, is merely narrating this one, leaving most of the on-the-spot derring-do to the junior varsity hero, John Smith.

10:30

4 — BOLD VENTURE — A dashing Mexican bullfighter dies suddenly and Shannon finds himself in the middle of a murder mystery.

7 — D.A.'S MAN — You can see the touch of Jack Webb all through this one, with little spots of humor, a wisp of a romance for Shannon, some homely touches about the other regular characters. The glue that holds it together is a story of a suspected narcotics supermarket where the junkies can get the stuff. Shannon has to pose as a far-out musician to get the goods on the no-goods.

7 — COMMAND PERFORMANCE — "Clash By Night," (1952), Barbara Stanwyck, Marilyn Monroe, Paul Douglas, Robert Ryan. A woman marries a fishing boat skipper for security and then finds she cannot resist a cynical and sophisticated man who is her husband's best friend.

4 — FOUR STAR FEATURE — "Texas," (1941), William Holden, Glenn Ford, Claire Trevor. Story of two men, after having fought in the Civil War, who wander out west to seek their fortune.

The Best On Radio

Greater Importance Attached to Way Man Thinks

Faith in God Can Produce Changes in Health

Oral Roberts has stirred up a scientific discussion as to just how a person may be cured by faith in God. The brain is in touch with all the organs and glands of the body, so medics are growing more open-minded about the adage, "As a man thinketh, so is he."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

ORAL ROBERTS, 38, is a TV evangelist who affirms that God can heal bodies as well as souls.

"Dr. Crane, I expect people to get all the aid they can from their local physicians," he began.

"For doctors are also intermediary links in God's plan for curing us of disease. But when people are pronounced incurable, I am willing to stand beside them and try to invoke the extra healing forces of God.

"However, I don't pretend to know the scientific mechanism which God uses. Maybe you can explain it."

Many readers have seen a supposedly sterile wife adopt a baby. And what happens?

In a few months she may become pregnant and bear a child of her own. For when she turns her attention off herself via the maternal affection for the adopted infant, her body begins to function normally.

He former selfish fear that she was an inferior female in being sterile, thus produced a negative effect. Her new unselfish concern for the foster child creates a positive outlook which apparently cures her sterility.

OUR BODIES are fairly mechanical machines. And we have two nervous systems to direct our muscular behavior and our glands.

But we have an autonomic nervous system which directs the muscles of the heart, skin, digestive system, etc. It also regulates secretion, sweating, gastric juice, etc.

Thus, our heart beats even if we are unconscious and our breathing occurs mechanically, because of the autonomic system.

But if we suddenly meet our sweetheart or a Halloween "ghost," our heart may speed up and our breathing fluctuate, for the brain then shoots nervous impulses across into the autonomic and disturbs the mechanical function of heart and lungs.

Likewise, tension and fear can force our gastric glands to secrete excess acid so we get peptic ulcers. Or we also become victims of spastic colitis.

WHEN WE GROW pale in fear, or blush in embarrassment, the brain is also influencing tiny muscle fibers around the skin arteries.

If the brain can influence heart and lungs and stomach and intestines and sweat glands, why shouldn't it indirectly prod or hamstring the liver and pancreas, too?

Dr. S. J. Van Pelt, president of the British Society of Medical Hypnosis, recently said that "any organ or gland in the body, including those which aid long life, can be controlled by hypnosis."

I have seen phenomenal results in ordinary hypnosis, so I certainly think a person imbued with complete faith in God could produce remarkable changes in the body's health.

As a scientist, I'd like to check on certain cases like diabetes, but no scientist will dispute facts.

Dystrophy Clinic Open

Sponsored jointly by the University of Miami School of Medicine and the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, the clinic will make use of the latest methods available, said Dr. Kermit H. Gates, director of Jackson hospital.

The association has named a medical advisory board consisting of seven specialists in neurology, orthopedics, pediatrics, and internal medicine from the UM medical school faculty to supervise the clinic.
